SUMMER'S END . . . back in school

As our 1985 summer came to an end, students started toning down and preparing for the new school year. For some of us, it's an exciting time of making plans for sports, classes, and other school activities. For others, it's an abrubt end to bumming around at the beach.

Summer was a time to do whatever hobbies we chose. Many people enjoyed the beach, as always, and Dawn Patrol became a common 5:00 a.m. awakening for surfers who paddled out to their passion-WAVES!- while the rest of us waited until 11:00 to get up and cruise to the beach as the morning haze burned off. Other sun-loving students chose different summer sports, such as waterskiing, sailing, swimming, and windsurfing to get their famous California tans. And several others took to the dirt in 4x4's or on dirt bikes and ATC's, and spent their time practicing for races in Ramona.

During the summer, many students acquired their long awaited driver's license and spent their time talking Mom and Dad into buying another car. In some cases they even got their own cars and spent every spare moment fixing them up, mainly "altering the suspension." Valley Parkway made a huge comeback, with several car clubs cruising every Friday and Saturday night. Also on Valley, the After Dark Night Club was packed and the lines were longer than usual. Across the street, Qwik Corner was raided every hour by police scattering crowds of thrill-seekers finding out "What is going on tonight?".

Lucky students went on vacations to Hawaii, Europe, around the states, or to other exciting places. Some went to summer camps for cheerleading, sports, yearbook, or just to relax and have fun. As the summer hit midpoint, the OG fields came alive with eager football players working to give us a team to be proud of-job well done, guys!

However we spent our 1985 summer, as it came to an end, we all acquired some wonderful memories and great expectations for the new year.

IN School

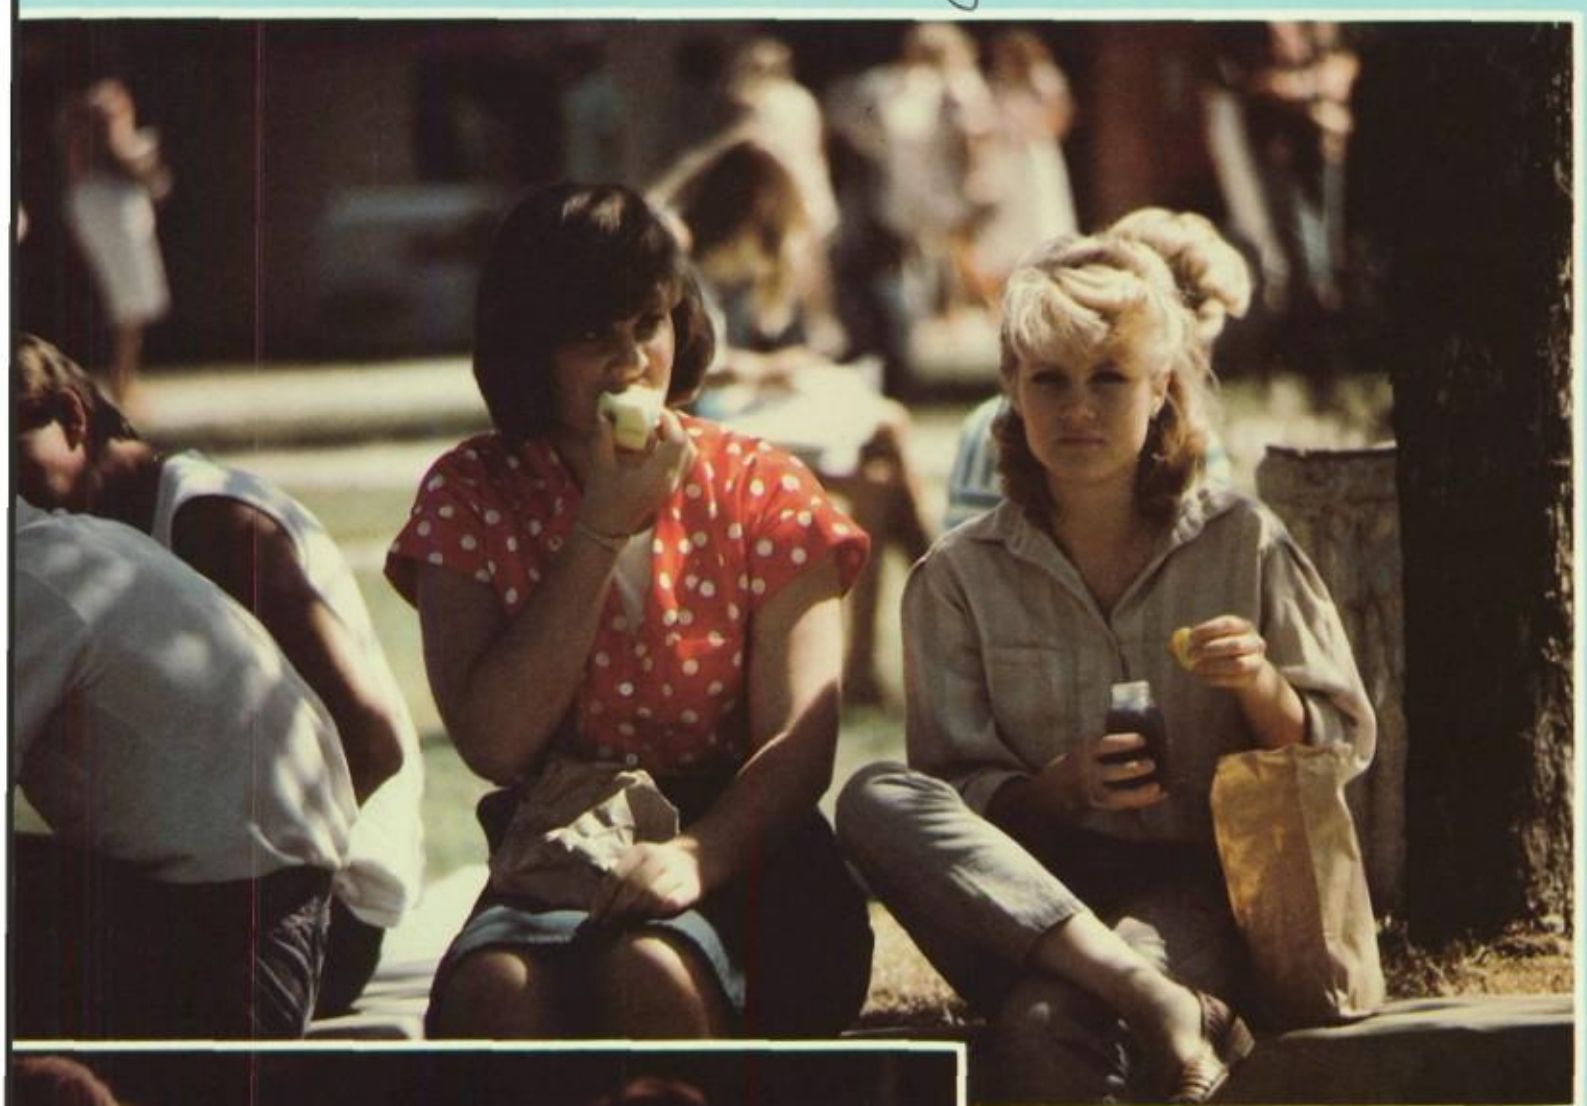
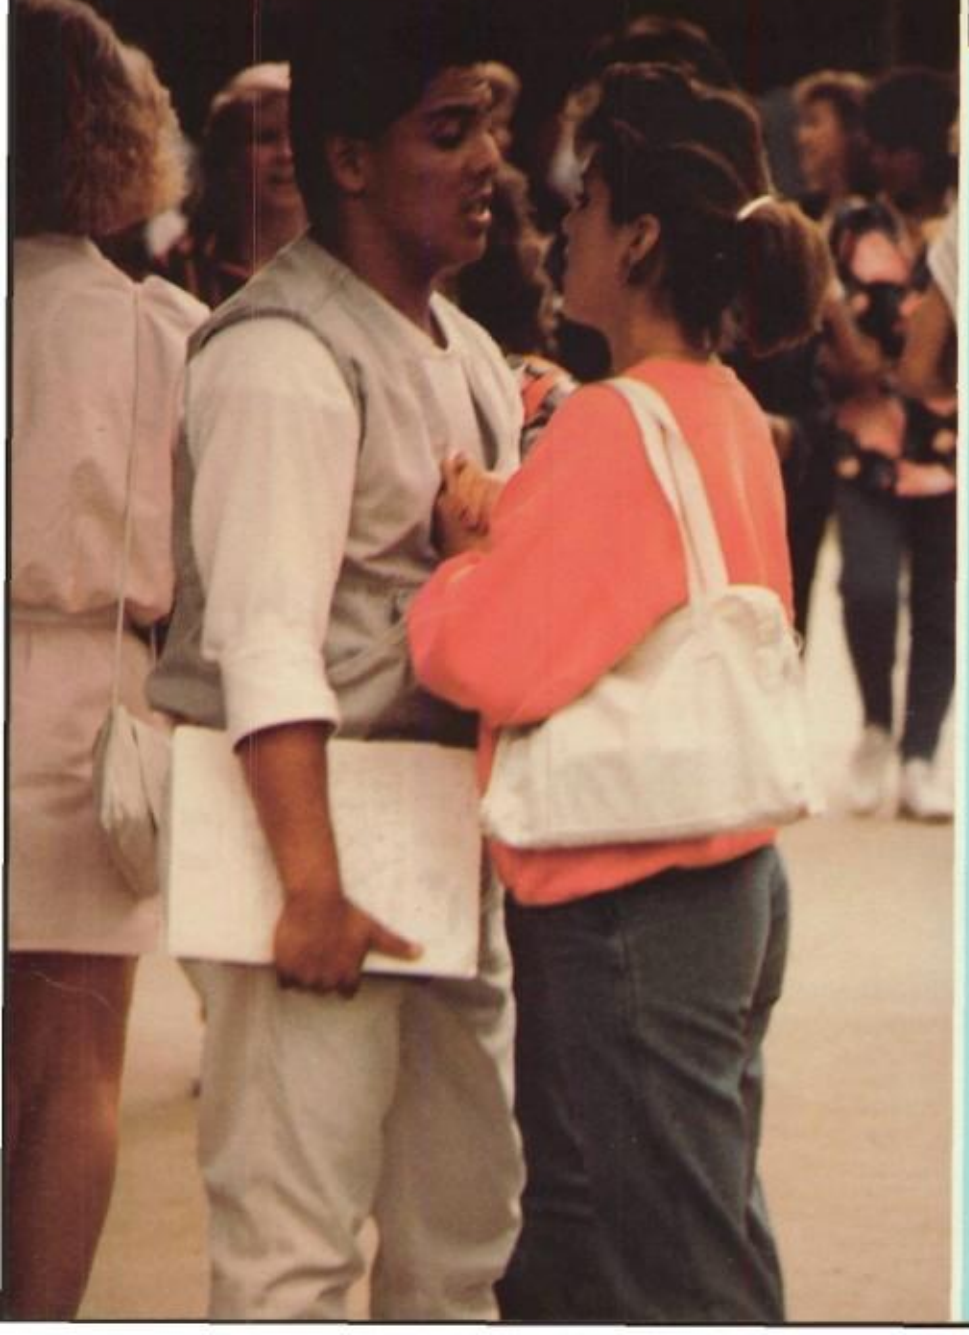
Laura,
It's been great! I am real glad that we have been friends for a long time. I think that you are a real sweetie and that you've got a real good personality. Hope I see ya over the summer and I hope you keep in touch 749-9330
Stay cool!
Love,
Kay Wall





Kicking back on the Senior Lawn, Tina Young and Laurel Glover make the best of lunch with closed campus.

A warm sunny morning welcomes students.

Taking it easy David "Pepe" Favela, Rich Corp, and John Glines share a bench and their lunches.

Seniors Kim Woerner and Suzi Lewis relax and check out the on campus lunch scene.

After lunch, Julie Lopez and Rick Martinez make the dreaded two period separation until after school.

LET'S DO LUNCH . . .
on campus

This year, students faced a new policy at OG-Closed Campus. For most, the change was pretty easy to accept, and lunch became a real social hour. Campus security helped keep those who didn't accept it as easy on campus.

Many seniors took shortened schedules because of closed campus. The underclassmen didn't have such options. Closed campus was a major change for those of us who had gotten used to taking off during lunch and a let down for underclassmen waiting to get their licenses so they could leave for lunch too, but for the incoming freshmen they'll never know what they're missing. ■

Giving the GO look, Moses Gutierrez and Becky Palma are part of the new Pepsi generation.

Gotcha! Michele Campbell is caught off guard eating her lunch.

Cooling off in the shade, Susan Smith and Kim Romans talk with friends.

Lucky Willy is surrounded by cheery senior girls at lunch on the Lawn.

. . . INTO THE NIGHT

Orange Glen takes the town

As the sun goes down in Escondido, the streets came alive with OG students out for fun and excitement. Valley Parkway becomes main street for places to go to find that fun and excitement. For those who choose not to go to the infamous After Dark, Qwik corner is usually the first hot spot to find out the goings-on in town. The place is a party hotline! When no parties seem to be jumpin', several groups of kids usually decide to party at the hills or sky or - for anyone whose car can make the rough trip - the views. From the upper views, you can look straight down Valley Parkway and from flat rock, you can see the entire city and parts of surrounding towns. As our town expands, so does the variety of places to go. The traditional hangouts (Round Table, The Vineyard, Burger King, etc.) now have new competition from newer businesses (Lampost, The Carousel and UA 8, and Fenton's). Night Life in Escondido has picked up alot in the last couple of years, and when we want to go out, we can do it in style! ■

WHY I WEAR WHAT I WEAR

Dressing Up to School . . . in todays fashion at Orange Glen

Fashion trends during 1985 and 1986 showed the personalities and attitudes of those who wore them. Individuality became the key word in dress styles, and the goal: to be unique. Fashion is an important outlet in expressing one's moods and feeling in everything from politics to musical tastes. Most people dress to fit their own interests, and that makes the categories into which people are placed. Jocks, mods, surfers, punks, trendies, breakers, bops, newros, preps, rockers, and any other word that has ever been used to describe or label someone's taste in clothing or attitude have their examples at Orange Glen. The definitions of these categories change in their interpretations as much as people change their clothes.

Some more noticeable groups are the mods, the surfers, the jocks, and of course the ever-changing trendies. Mods are the more individuality-minded of the four. They wear a lot of black, and they also wear clothes that reflect the 60's in style. The most important thing is not what they wear, but the fact that they dress the way they choose to. They don't let magazines or others people influence them, and the funny thing is, their "old" clothes often become the "new trend."

Trendies are the total opposite. Impressions are everything, so they read all the fashion magazines, buying everything they see and not stopping to think if it will be fashionable two weeks later. They often confuse fad with fashion, which is okay if they have the money to buy a new wardrobe twice a month. The "latest styles" for this very large group seems to be pastel flowers on everything, shiny silk, and knit stirrup pants. Paisley patterns from the 60's have been modified for the 80's. Big shirts and tight pants adorned with all kinds of jewelry, especially rhinestone and pearl brooches can be seen all over the place. Male trendies are the same. They roll up their pants and let their shirttails hang out of their sweaters.

Jocks are entirely unique to the human race. They shave their heads every football season, and their entire wardrobes consist of Levi's 501 blues, sports jerseys, and white leather tennis shoes. They carry around Playmate coolers and are very loud.

Another really large group at Orange Glen are the surfers, which is not unusual, since the beach is only 30 miles away. The clothes they wear reflect the casual lifestyle which they live. Baggy cotton shorts and pants, T-shirts and sweatshirts bearing surfboard logos, and Flojo sandals or Vans shoes are the basics for their wardrobes.

There are many more styles of groups of people that call themselves whatever they want, some not wanting to be labeled, because everyone is different everywhere. The most important rule of fashion in the 80's is dressing to please one person: yourself. Like most everything else, fashion is an attitude, and whether or not it is well-received by others is up to them. In spite of all the "here today-gone tomorrow" trends and fads which come through every year, 1985 and 1986 has shown that fashion has come full circle, and the only way to be "in" is to be yourself. ■

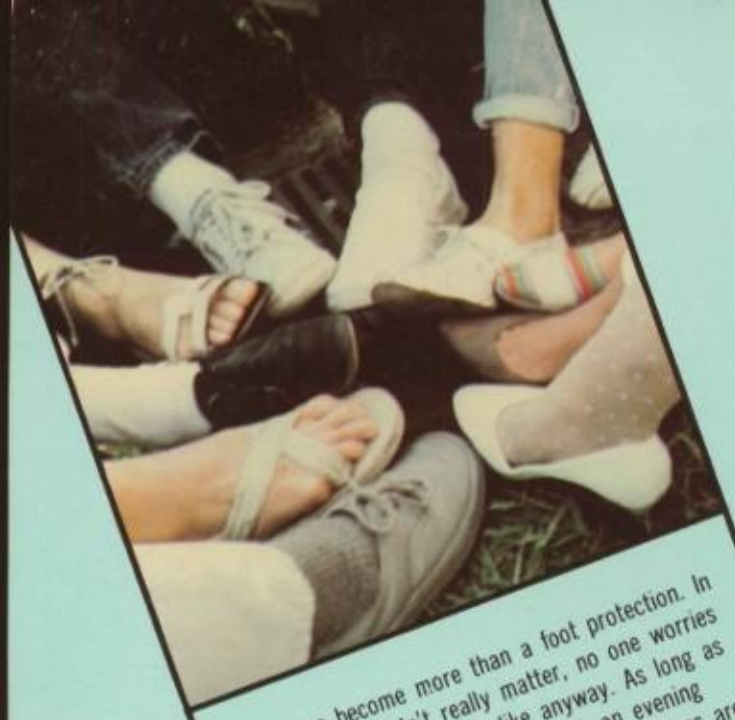
Swells up! Time to catch a wave! Two surfers and a surfer chick model their everlasting digital and nautical watches. A must for every wave lover.

Put your right foot in, put your left foot out . . . Shoes of all colors, designs, and shapes became more in than just plain tennis shoes.

Sculpting sprays, hair glaze, sprays, mousse, and gels helped make hair stay in its place and look its finest. Lorraine Zelenz's hair is no exception to the fine styles of the 80's.

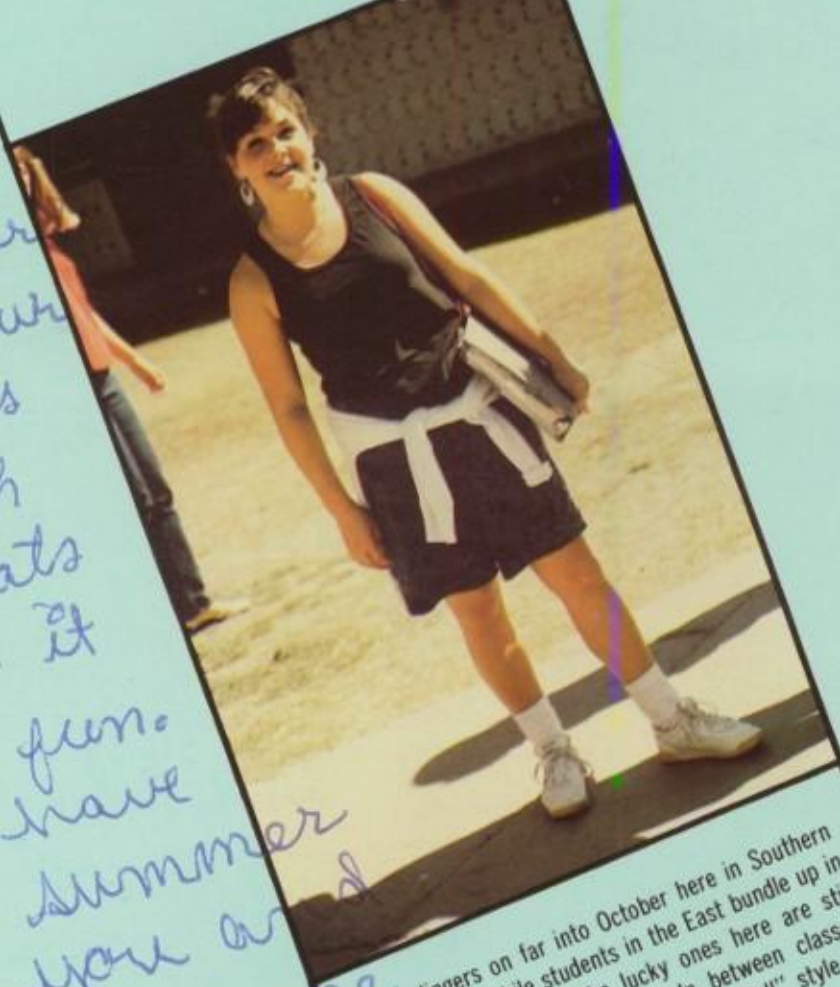
We are all uniquely different and so is our style of dress. A group of friends in front of their favorite lunch hangout, the student store, are brought together to model their "thrift store" mod apparel.

Looking rad! These aren't just t-shirts, but art at its best. Surf shirts look fine after coming out of the water at the beach or at school. Their bright colors bring a glowing sensation to Kellie Nelson and her seven surfer buddies.



Shoes have become more than a foot protection. In the past shoes didn't really matter, no one worries about what your feet look like anyway. As long as no one wears basketball shoes with an evening gown, who cares? Those days are over. Shoes are as important to an outfit as a shirt. Pumps, huraches, ankle boots, wing-tip oxfords, combat boots, moccasins, aerobic shoes, chinese slippers, espadrilles, hi-tops, and plain old rubber thongs are just a FEW of the many types of shoes which gained popularity in 1986. These and every variation of them complete the look for anyone who cares about fashion.

Hair took on a new texture this year. Hair sprays were replaced by styling gels, cremes, and mousses. These give the hair more of a variety of styles, along with improving the condition and body of it. Jane Bellamy's hair is gelled and blown over to the side, creating an unusual effect.



Summer lingers on far into October here in Southern California, and while students in the East bundle up in sweaters and scarves, the lucky ones here are still wearing tank tops and shorts. In between classes, Shannon Bryson pauses to show her "fall" style, including Reebok tennies and big dangly earrings.

Sweatshirts have become fashionable as well as comfortable. Printed with everything from colleges to surf logos to old movies stars, these "gym" clothes are no longer just for P.E. As Julie Lopez gets ready to leave, she shows her fondness for that little green ball of clay, Gumby, and his horse, Pokey by wearing them on her sweatshirt.

Laura,
It's been

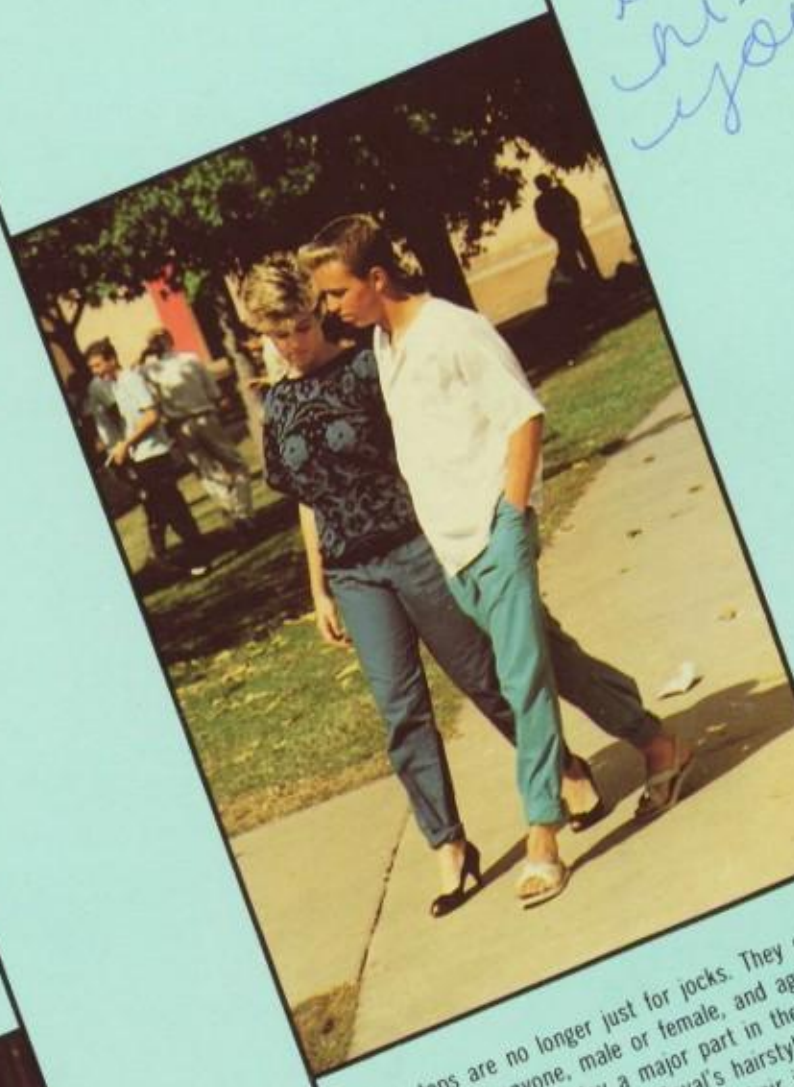
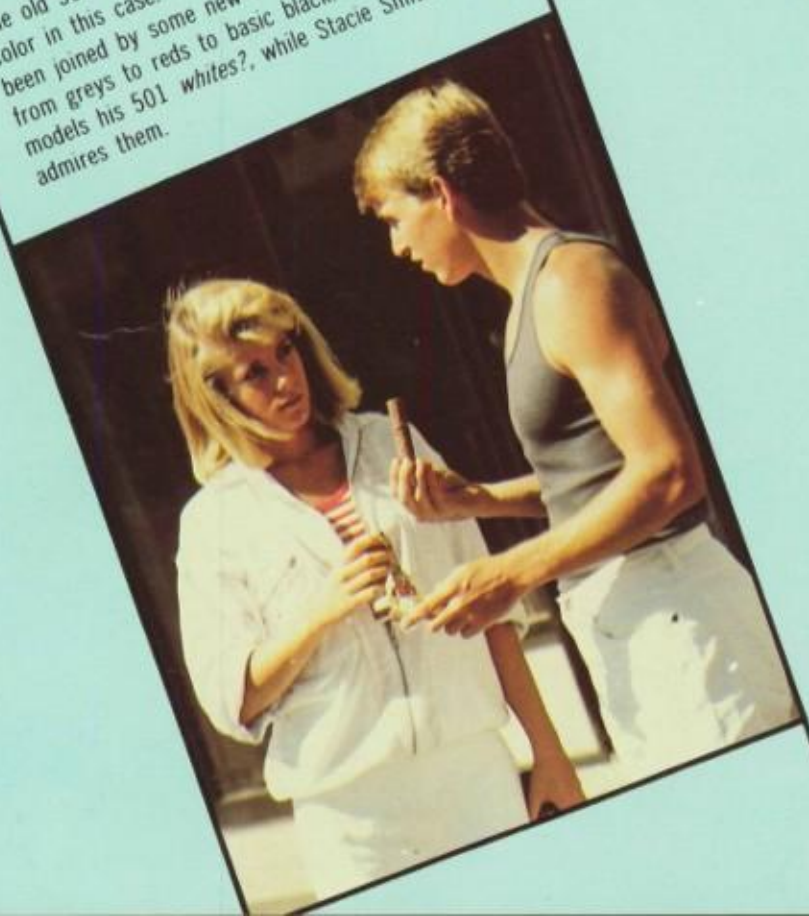
Styling gels and mousses were not just for girls alone. The new looks for guys' hair involved these styling aids and the results were very favorable. Mike Hinton displays his fashion-conscience by gelling his blond hair over to one side.

Time and fashion have merged to produce a new fad: the Swatch. These Swiss quartz watches come in every style and color imagineable. How long will they be fashionable? Only time will tell, but these colorful and fun accessories will surely withstand the test of time.



Flat tops are no longer just for jocks. They can be seen on anyone, male or female, and again gels and mousses play a major part in their growing popularity. Carlos Royal's hairstyle is no exception, and though Renee Hill's hair isn't as short, it nevertheless shows the mass appeal of the new hairstyling aids.



The old 501 blues are singing a different tune, or color in this case. The traditional favorites have been joined by some new ones, ranging in color from greys to reds to basic black. Dirk White models his 501 whites?, while Stacie Smith admires them.

"Hey, Let's Hear it, We've Got Spirit!"

The week before Homecoming, known as "SPIRIT WEEK," is five days of dressing up and having fun. To start off the week on Monday, ancient Greece was brought to the 80's-Toga day. Toga day had the least response, but was alot of fun for those who wore their sheets to school. With Tuesday came the mobsters with hats, furs, jewels, and machine guns. Some of the more creative students came as mafia targets, carrying anti-mob signs and wearing holey, blood-stained shirts. On Wednesday-NERDS! NERDS! NERDS! Everywhere you looked they were there, with their backpacks, bandaged knees, and broken glasses. Nerd day had the best response (or maybe everyone always dresses that way all the time!) At any rate, it was the most fun. Halloween fell on Thursday and it also brought a great response from students. The campus was filled with witches, Rambos, Tarzans and Janes, and even cheerleaders. Friday was the Traditional red-white-and-blue day. The day brought a patriotic end to the week and got everyone up for the big Homecoming game against Fallbrook. Throughout the week, during lunch, class competitions were held to help determine which class had the most spirit. Seniors blew away the freshmen and sophomores, and eased by the fired-up juniors to come out in first place, as usual. SENIORS RULE! ■

HOMECOMING 1985

This year's Homecoming was a tremendous success!!! The ASB did a great job organizing the pregame activities and everything went smoothly. The ceremony was slightly altered by the extraordinary Class of '86, which decided to bring their entire four years of royalty in to crown this year's court. Several convertibles were borrowed from local dealers to drive the old court up in style. For the 85-86 court, each class produced a float, based on the theme of "The Four Seasons." The seniors did well with their season (winter) and their float was a real "Winter Wonderland". Over 200 balloons were let loose as the float met the crowd to reveal the snowy scene. The juniors did well, also, receiving second place in the competition. A huge mural of a wave set the summery scene, with a sandcastle, real sand, and even a car to add to their float. The sophomores had a bright float to go along with their season of spring. Their giant rainbow showed alot of hard work by the class of '88. The freshmen showed some real freshmen personality with their autumn scene - a barn and a scarecrow. The week preceding Homecoming stirred up junior-senior rivalries - the seniors coming up victorious not only in the Halloween egg wars, but in the float competition as well. Way to go '86! After the new court was introduced and the floats all took them away, the ASB sponsered a huge fireworks display to fire up the crowd before the game. The Homecoming game against Fallbrook was probably the most exciting and crowded of the season. OG had more alumni back this year than we have had in a long time. Cheerleaders from ten years ago came to cheer on the team and reminisce. Og put up a tough fight against Fallbrook, but ended up on the short end of the stick. Although the game wiped us out of the playoofs, we had a great season and a football team to be proud of. Homecoming '85 was definately a success! ■

PRETTY ROWDY INDIVIDUALS DURING EIGHTY-SIX

Just as our principal introduced the new "PATRIOT PRIDE" - Personal Responsiblity In Developing Excellence -The seniors introduced their "SENIOR PRIDE" - Pretty Rowdy Individuals During Eighty-six. The Class of '86 sold T-shirts and sweatshirts for a fundraiser and one-fourth of the class had the shirts. The seniors displayed their "PRIDE" and rowdiness at pep rallies, games and assemblies with class!

Don't ever try to understand - some things will just never make sense.

Don't ever be reluctant to show your feelings - when you're happy, give into it! When you're not, live with it.

Don't ever be afraid to try to make things better - you might like the results.

Don't ever take the weight of the world on your shoulders.

Don't ever feel threatened by the future - take life one day at a time.

Don't ever feel guilty about the past - what's done is done. Learn from any mistakes you might have made.

Don't ever feel that you are alone . . . there is always someone there for you to reach out to.

Don't forget that you can achieve so many of the things you can imagine - imagine that! It's not as hard as it seems.

Don't ever stop loving,

don't ever stop believing,

don't ever stop dreaming your dreams.

WELCOME TO

ORANGE GLEN,

In Orange Glen history, only 2 football teams had better records the '85 Patriots' 8-2 mark. Blessed with many returning lettermen, the Patriots put excitement back into high school football. Orange Glen, once again, proved to be a powerhouse in the Palomar League.

The powerful Patriots attack began with a 42-7 shelacking of playoff bound San Marcos. OG then clinched the city championship with victories over Escondido (34-14) and San Pasqual (30-29). In the process they unofficially changed the name of Escondido to Orange Glen, California. The Patriots then traveled to Oceanside to meet 2A champions El Camino for a chance at 4-0. In a defensive struggle, the Patriots prevailed 16-7.

Opening up league, OG challenged Mt. Carmel. Again, the defense played extremely well as the Patriots continued to dominate, winning 25-3. This led to the battle of the unbeaten: Number 1 ranked Vista vs. Orange Glen. In what was called the best game of the year, Vista fought hard to gain a 29-21 victory. This gave Orange Glen their first loss and dropped their record to 5-1. The next game the Patriots faced San Dieguito. Orange Glen played with little emotion as they seemed to be flat from the previous game. They also appeared to be looking ahead to the Fallbrook game. Whatever the case, the Patriots proved too powerful for the Mustangs of San Dieguito as OG nixed them with a 22-9 win. With a CIF playoff berth at stake, Fallbrook and Orange Glen met in a shootout. The shootout lived up to its billing with Fallbrook scoring in the last seconds of the game to pull out with a 34-31 upset on our homecoming. The next week, the Patriots were playing for pride. Although OG spotted Poway a punt return and a kickoff return, the red, white, and blue just needed Kelly's right shoe. With 6 seconds left in the game, Kelly Brown kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Patriots a 31-28 come-from-behind win. The last game of the season saw the seniors thoroughly dominate Torrey Pines 28-14. The victory gave the Patriots an 8-2 record and a season that will be remembered for years to come.

Many outstanding athletes contributed to the success of the Patriots this year. On offense, OG was led by first team. All Palomar League and Patriots Most Valuable Player, Brett Salisbury. Switching form free-safety to quarterback this year, Salisbury passed for over 2,000 yards, setting a new school record. Brett's receivers included Scott Carlovsky, a first team pick, and Matt Fiorello, a second team all league selection. Carlovsky set a school record with a 14 pass reception night against Poway. Fiorello was the second leading receiver in the county before a thumb injury sidelined him for the last two games. Ironically, Carlovsky took charge and finished second in the county in receiving, replacing his teammate Fiorello.

Balancing the offense, the running game, led by Rick "Bear" Espinosa and Ricky Martinez, kept opponents honest. The "Bear" rushed for many yards on the way to a second team all league choice. The key to the offense however, was in the line. Every starting member was mentioned in all league nominations with Curt

They also opened holes for Rick Espinosa and Ricky Martinez to run through. The O-line starters included: Tim Dorian, Rich Martinson, Dave LaVine, Doug Gann, and Curt Dykes, all of whom were seniors.

The Patriot defense was spearheaded by the linebacker corps featuring seniors Chance Portillo, Paul Stehly and Craig Hartsuyker. All three players were returning starters and outstanding players. All-league honors went to Stehly (second team), and Hartsuyker (first team). Craig Hartsuyker was also named Palomar League's defensive player of the year. Another defense standout was Marc Heath who led the D-line. Heath earned first team honors as a defensive end.

Special teams were an integral part of the Patriot attack. Kicking the way to victory was Kelly Brown (second team all Palomar League). The highlight of his year came during the Fallbrook game, when Brown kicked a 49 yard field goal. The punt return team, or in this case the punt block team, excelled in 1985. They blocked six punts. Credits go to Sophomore Ed Barber with one, Dave LaVine with two and Craig Hartsuyker with three.

The 1985 OG Patriots will be remembered for bringing spirit and pride back to our school. Even though OG was snubbed from CIF playoffs, the Patriots proved they are still the champions of Orange Glen, California. Doesn't that sound great? ■

Varsity water polo, a young team with only two seniors, had its share of ups and downs throughout the season.

Even with such a young team, the Patriots finished with a league record of 9-7, and an overall record of 13-8.

Leading the team was senior captain Paul Whiteley, Paul, the most valuable player, teamed up with senior Matt Shaver to help the Pats offensively. Juniors Brian Williams (Most Inspirational) and Ty Carss, along with Sophomores David Seymour (Most Improved) and Mike Dunn helped lead a well-balanced attack. Defensively, Mike Hinton and goalie Terry Wrightson helped to keep the other teams from scoring.

Although the team did not qualify for CIF this year, they did place second in the Poway tournament and also had a major upset when the Patriots beat powerhouse Fallbrook 10-8.

The team looks forward to revenge next year as they become bigger, stronger and more experienced, looking for the CIF title. ■

One of the best things about being on the Orange Glen cross country team is the friendships that develop, not only among the teammates but among the athletes from competing schools. New friends give team members something to look forward to at invitationals and gives a greater sense of sportsmanship among schools. All of the runners are working toward the same goal, and even though not everyone can win, the feelings of comeraderie helps make everyone feel good.

Every day after school while other students are going home to sleep, eat, or got to work, the cross country team members are out training on one of Coach Fenton's killer courses. All the hard work really paid off though. The boys team did a fine job all season and did quite well into CIF. The girls team was slowed down by a few injuries. Cheryl Ricketts, Brooke Portillo, and Shanda Wolfe were honored as MVP in their respective classes. The boys team was blessed with a number of excellent runners. Bruce Farr, Rene Zepeda, Ulysses Belardes, and Gerrerdo Ruiz were the top four runners. Sophomores John Salisbury and Paul Gentile gave the team extra strength. Seniors Bruce Beck, Gerry Aldana, and Steve Branin kept the team running strong.

The team went to Las Vegas overnight for their first meet, and the boys team went to the Kinney Regionals.

Though the season passed quickly, the track team always has room for the long distance runners in the spring. ■

Although they ended the season with a 7-14 record, this year's varsity volleyball team fought hard. The highlight of the season was the match against San Dieguito; five long games of exciting play with Dee Majors and outside hitter Cindy Pysden both having outstanding matches. The team of hard working girls was led by the dedication of Julia Wise, who received league honorable mention along with Christina Whiteley.

Julia Wise, voted Most Valuable Player, pulled the team together and provided stability through her position as setter.

Cindy Pysden, who received Most Inspirational Player, brought strength to the front line as an outside hitter and the back with her hustle and dependability on defense.

Ashley Askegreen showed a strong second half of the season, gaining the Most Improved Player Award.

This year's Varsity team consisted of a variety of experience. The Senior Class was represented by Captain Julia Wise, Co-Captain Cindy Pysden, Diane Kirkendall, and Dee Majors. Diana Wade was the only Junior on the team. The Sophomore Class was represented by Ashley Askegreen, Katie Thornburgh, and Christina Whiteley. Linda Wise showed agressiveness and skill to deserve the honor of being the only freshmen on the team.

First year coach, Julie Romain, provided the team with many new strategies. ■

GIRLS VARSITY TENNIS

Gives Orange Glen the advantage

The Orange Glen varsity girls tennis team had a surprising year under first year coach Van Barnes. With returning players Chris Dowler, Cami Allen, Didi Barnhard, and Julie Jennings, the team put out a great effort to move up in the Palomar League standings. The doubles team of Cami Allen and Chris Dowler did very well and held their own against the best the league could throw at them. Julie Jennings, the number one singles player, also put out a great effort to anchor down the singles department. Kelly Louis and Didi Barnhard, the second doubles team, also did well and took many opportunities away from opposing rivals. Next year, with the return of starting sophomores Cami Allen and Laureen Duarte, we can look for strong finishes and great sets from Patriot tennis in 1986. ■

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Make spirit come alive!

"We're trucking for a touchdown, HEY! We won't stop . . ." The cheerleaders chant to the crowds during the Friday night football games, riling them up and getting them involved.

Many times the cheerleaders would cheer the team to a victory, filling everyone's heads with thoughts of CIF playoffs. Though that did not happen, the cheerleaders sure did their part.

The cheerleaders not only attended football and basketball games but also other sports such as water polo, baseball and cross country, making it to as many as they could. This was a hard thing to do but it was worth the time to make everyone feel important.

Many hours during the summer were spent practicing to achieve a near-perfect performance, and though it was hard to make every practice, it all paid off in the end.

The captain, senior Margrete Chadwick, led our Patriot cheerleading squad. ■

The J.V. cheerleaders contributed much enthusiasm and school spirit here at Orange Glen in the '85-'86 school year.

Cheerleaders need energy, skill, and dedication to make it through all the practices, sporting events, and competitions that they are involved with throughout the year.

Our J.V. cheerleaders practiced many hard, long hours to make their chants and routines look so easy at all the sporting events. Their bright, boldly lettered signs, advertising the upcoming sporting events, increased the student body's awareness of the games and most importantly increased school spirit. ■

JV FOOTBALL

Has all the right moves

With the winning combination of the coaching staff, head coach Art Warren, offensive coaches Rick Hansen and Rob Gilster and defensive coaches Alan Dale, Tony Teets and Joe Early and the enthusiastic players resulted in a 4-4-2 season.

Leading off the passing game Shane Copeland, a great credit to OG football, will continue on as Varsity QB next year. The speed king running backs Davic Monick, Ron Lang and Frank Choumas made a fine effort and ended in a great season.

At the other end of Copelands passes were receivers Jim Rider and Jason Sowers and tight end Dan Early, Defensively the Patriots held strong through games against Vista, Mt. Carmel and did outstanding through the whole season.

Starring defensive players were Linebackers Gregg Anderson, and Bob Wilbur, and Defensive back Mark Harper. This season showed great talent from J.V. which will hopefully continue on throughout next years Varsity.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

"We tried"

The J.V. Volleyball team had a tough season. Showing Patriot Pride and enthusiasm each teammate put in their best effort. Though they lost all of their games this year, the J.V. Volleyball team sure kept their spirits and were really good sports throughout the year.

Their practice really paid off for their serving and returning the ball over the net with determination.

This has basically been a building year, and half the team will return next year to make it even better season. ■

J.V. Cross Country

Cruises in control

Looking strong throughout the year, the boy's and girl's J.V. cross country teams came away from the season with something to be proud of. Both teams did very well, a few J.V. runners even competed at league finals, some running their best times. The boys team finished with a very impressive record. There were many J.V. runners made of future varsity material. The J.V. team traveled with the varsity to most of the meets and invitationals, or other team outings, such as "all you can eat pizza" at Lampost or broom hockey at "The House of Ice". All of these things added to the fun of being on the J.V. cross country team. ■

JV BASKETBALL

Looks to the future. . .

This years Junior Varsity basketball team was a team with great skill and pride. The team was 4 and 2 in non-league play and 4 and 8 in league play, which gave the team an overall record of 8 and 10.

During the course of the season, 2 of the J.V. members had enough skill to be brought up to the varsity team, which meant that more of the bench got to see some playing time. The teams "Mr. Hustle" award was presented to Brian Leander. While the most improved award was received by Manual Sanchez who was well deserving of this award because he started the season as a substitute, but then became one of the starters and averaged 8 points a game. David Monach received the most valuable player award although he was eventually brought up to the varsity team. ■

Pride in defense

This year's Freshmen Basketball team played hard and learned how to win. With hustle and pride, their key factor to winning was a strong defense, led by Trennis Wright, Lenny McGill, and Dale Weems. Along with the strong defense, the Freshmen had people to put points on the board. Leading scorers this year include Bill McNeil, Cree Morris, and Glen Reyes. As the Freshmen team grew stronger on the court and learned how to work together, we can look forward to a successful J.V. team. ■

J.V. SOCCER

Improves throughout the season

Without a doubt the Orange Glen Girls Soccer program is improving. After the first year of a girls organized summer soccer team for both varsity and the junior varsity. This program is going to be improving for both the teams skill work and team work. First year Coach Cathy Williams was pleased by the way her team did this year. Candi Hoag, the goalie, had a great first year on the team. Jennifer Gerson played well at mid field and Juliet Tiffany on defense. Many of the junior varsity players will be moving up to varsity next year to hopefully have a powerful team. The way the junior varsity team is doing this year, they sure will have a successful varsity team next year. ■

Orange Glen 1986 boys soccer teams made a large improvement and proved that they are a force to come in the Palomar League. The work on fundamentals and simple plays visiably helped the J.V. team. Though having lost their goalie just into the season because of injuries to varsity goalies they overcame adversity to do very well against such teams as Torrey Pines, San Pasqual and Poway. ■

J.V. GIRLS BASKETBALL

Have a fine season

Orange Glens girls J.V. basketball team had an excellent season this year. There was much talent on the team. Kelley Duschek, with a total of 134 points in the season, and Amy Westerlund scoring 108, proved to be fine players.

When the season came to an end, the girls had a record to be proud of. They accomplished many victories with only a few loses. This particular team, because of their talented and coordinated players in combination with a fine coach, made this season a great one. ■

J.V. TENNIS
VOLLIES FOR THE WIN . . .

At the end of the summer and the start of the new school year, the J.V. tennis team was practicing and preparing for the approaching fall season. The resurfacing and improving of the school's tennis courts took place during the pre-season forcing the players to relocate their practices to the YMCA courts for several weeks. For most this was not really a problem just a nuisance because of transportation arrangements. The leading doubles team of Kari Krekorian and Dawn Mason, along with outstanding singles Sheri Smith and Julie Hendricks, Coached by Carl Renault produced a strong team and a fine season. ■

J.V. WRESTLING

Under the leadership of captains Kevin Blakeborough and August Fluegge, the J.V. wrestlers had a good season. They improved their record by taking third place at the Fallbrook Tournament and fourth place at the Monte Vista Tournament, the equivalent of C.I.F. for J.V. According to coach Kevin Groepper, the team was among the top five in the county, Groepper also said that this year's team was one of the best teams Orange Glen has had. With the talent moving up from the J.V. team, Groepper believes that next year's varsity will be very strong. The top J.V. wrestlers, Kevin Blakeborough, Kevin Krauss, Denny Lira, and Dan Stehly, will be welcomed additions to next year's varsity team. ■

FROSH WRESTLING

Shoots into action

Besides the fact that the freshman team was small, they had a strong team. The lack of a full team hurt because they were forced to forfeit the weight divisions in which they did not have a wrestler. The forfeits cost them many points that would have enabled them to win more matches.

One of the team's top wrestlers was Co-captain Mark Weiler. Weiler won first place at the Poway and Mt. Carmel tournaments. Other top members were Jason Gann, Jason Patterson, Dwayne Fluegge, and team Co-captain Mike Fiorello. With these and other freshmen wrestlers, the next year's J.V. team promises to have a great season. ■

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Varsity basketball team worked very hard to fulfill a goal they set out to accomplish just two weeks into last summer. They were a group of dedicated athletes who gave up part of their summer to prepare for the up coming season. On November 11, Head Coach Dana Ernest and Asst. Coach Lt. Colonel Hamilton began their campaign. Ernest had twelve players to work with; five golden seniors, seven juniors and one young sophomore brought up from J.V.

The team got off to a good start beating Escondido and did a fine job in the rest of non-league play. Then the real test came: the opening of league play. Varsity basketball finished with a .500 average season at 6-6. The team was within two points of the playoffs. Both of the two points came in two separate games against Mt. Carmel. They were one point double overtime losses. The Patriots finished in third and had a few well established players. Senior guard Kory Kelly was the team leader and captain. Kory averaged nearly 20 points a game and was the leading assist man. He was also named on the first team all league squad and was appointed to third team all CIF. Junior center Steve Clinger was the number one rebounder with 12 rebounds a game. He was also named second team all league. Guards Matt Fiorello, Wayne Ortega and defensive wiz Scott Carlovsky added that extra touch we needed to get the ball up the court. Fundamentally sound, player Jim Deubig supplied the team with some muscle they needed underneath the boards. Other players Brett Salisbury couldn't finish the season due to injury. Rob Cosler, John Hilton and Kevin Pressley all did an excellent job.

At the awards banquet Coach Ernest handed out awards to MVP Kory Kelly, Iron Man Steve Clinger, Mr. Hustle Scott Carlovsky and because he deserves it Mr. Cheerleader Rob Cosler. ■

VARSITY WRESTLING

Wrestlers Pin to . . . Win

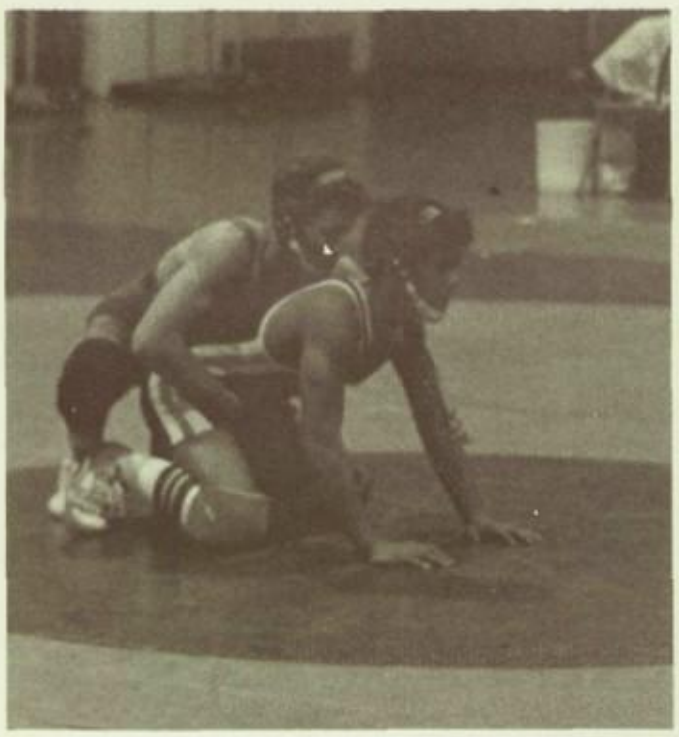
Wrestling is a very challenging sport and one of the toughest in high school. It is so individual, if you mess up, you have no one to blame but yourself. The team put many hours of practice in this year, conditioning, learning new moves, and preparing as much as possible for CIF.

One of the tougher things about wrestling is cutting weight. Most of our wrestlers had to cut or keep their weight down to wrestle a class below them. The practices were enough to make you lose the weight, but it was suffering after practice that makes it so tough.

At the beginning of the season the coaches had a pretty good idea of who would be going to State. So they trained the guys tougher than ever, preparing them for the toughest tournament of the year. The coaches guessed right of whom would go to State. Three of this years varsity team members had the priveledge of wrestling at the State Tournament in San Jose. Besides having a lot of individual talent, we had a really good all around team, one of the best in the county.

We took first at the Escondido Tournament, and first at the Jim Londos Memorial, second at the Carlsbad, and fifth at Rim-of-the-World. We also took second in league behind Poway who won the State Tournament with almost a team point record. The three seniors that earned much recognition this year were Sonny Stienbaum at 148 pounds, Paul Stehly at 168's, and Doug Gann at heavy weight. All were selected first team members. Paul was also nominated for wrestler of the year. Jim Rider, David LaVine and Boyd Johnson also made second team all league. The wrestlers had a fine season this year and are looking forward to a better one next year. ■



Waiting for the whistle, Jim Rider plans on taking down his opponent for two points.

Pinning his opponents is nothing new for Doug Gann, but this time he does it in an unusual way.

V. BOYS SOCCER

Doesn't give up.

Starting out the season, the boy's soccer team had an unforseen win over San Pasqual. With new confidence and a new coaching staff the team had hoped to come out of the season with a respectable record. Though things did not go as well as planned, the team viewed this year as one of experience.

Four games into the season, Alan Bathgate, the first string goalie and contender for all-league goalie, fractured his left arm in a game against Fallbrook. In the same game the second string goalie, Bob Winans, was also injured in goal. David Lemus was then chosen to replace the only goalies they had. Both of the goalies were out for the season and David, the center forward was back in the goal. David did his best and recorded his first shutout against San Dieguito in the second round of the season. There were many exceptional players on this year's team: Senior Mike Dean, a center halfback contributed much to the team as did Jr. David Miller, Jr. David Ihnotic, and Sr. Lin Chow.

First time coach Joel Vexler and Assistant coach John Moran did their best under the circumstances. Looking at this year as one of experience, they expect to have a strong team next year with almost all the players returning. Only two starting seniors will be graduating in the spring of '86. On that we hope and believe the Orange Glen Boys soccer team will soon be a competitor. ■

GIRLS V. SOCCER

Kicks off in spirit

After the first year of a girl's travling summer soccer team, the girls went into this year's season hoping that the previous summer's soccer program would have added to their ability to play as one. The league record was not great, but the year was an overall success. If not for a few minor reasons the team might have been in the CIF play-offs for the first year ever. In pre-season play the team did quite well, beating almost all of the Avocado league teams. They played in two tournaments, The Raider and the San Pasqual, which took place over Christmas vacation.

One of the reasons the Patriots could not fully develope into a solid team this year was because of a sickness that many players came down with in the middle of the season. According to head coach Mike Doherty, the team only played up to their potential in a handful of games. At the times when all of the team was not sick, they played outstandingly. Like they should have all season long. "They were always hustling and trying hard, but a few things kept us from beating the team that we could have". "We go against some pretty tough competition but if we keep working, I don't know why we couldn't develop into just as strong as a team."

Senior, Janice Taft, was one of the main attributes of the team. Janice had a great senior year and was acknowledged by many opposing coaches for her impressive play. Janice recorded many spectacular saves during the season and was picked for All league 2nd team. Losing Janice will be one of the downfalls to next years team. But we will be getting back the strength of our defense, Cheryl Dunbar. Along with Cheryl, Chris Fletcher, Nichol Giachi and Louis Levers will be returning full backs. Half backs, Brooke Portillo, Linda Dunbar and Becky Glaze will also be returning to the team. Forwards Erica Leigh, Karla Willis and Jenni Small will be playing for the Patriots in '87. Angie Trapp and Lisa Bell both had outstanding seasons but will be graduating. The team does have potential and is hoping to have a successful next year. ■

GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL

The future looks bright

Showing skill, talent, and effort, Orange Glen's girls varsity basketball team had a fun and exciting year. The team used the 1985-86 year as a rebuilding year. With only one senior on the team, they learned and improved through the season. Leading the team were co. captains Stacie Smith and Laura Hughes. Always encouraging and supporting, Coach Ricketts was a great help to the team. The team won the first league game in three years, with Laura Hughes getting first team all league, and Stacie Smith and Christie Westerlund getting honorable mentions.

Chris Dowler was always hustling. She had quick defense ability, and was most improved. Christie Westerlund never gave up and was most coachable. Felicia Bunce encouraged the team. She was a good forward and was most inspirational. Laura Hughes was a co-captain she showed good offensive skills playing center and forward. Marisa Lefton was a good rebounder. She was tough under the boards. Michele Campbell was a good outside shot and she never gave anything less than her best. Michelle White always showed good effort and got the rebound. Sheri Granger gave extra effort and showed great defense ability. Stacie Smith was the leader on the court. She was the other co-captain and lead the fast break. ■

VARSITY TRACK

Discovers new talents

When one knows that a team is going to be small, one has to look in the opposite direction and notice the talents of the athletes that did join the team. For some reason not very many students joined the Orange Glen track team this year. In the past we have had a fairly large size team but this year it is far from true. The coaches know that size does not always win, but it is the individual talent that really counts. They hope that the size of the team does not effect anything. They had a few freshmen on the team with raw talent, hopefully can be molded into a CIF Champions by the time they are out of here. With talent level increasing, hopefully it can attract more people to participate next year.

After three weeks of practice, which is hardly enough, the team had a practice meet against Escondido High School. This meet was more of trial to see if one makes the Varsity or Junior varsity teams. The week after was followed by rain which forced the team to cancel a meet against El Capitan. The rain also forced them to postpone the Mustang relays to April 4th. The weeks to follow they practiced hard and ran in league competitions until league pre-lims and league finals and finally CIF, if you qualify.

The guys varsity team has a good chance of doing very well. The girls are developing. With alot of work and dedication the team will come along quite well. Coach Mike Cummings keeps trying to make it the best team possible. Fund raising enabled the guy's varsity team to get new warm-up suits and equipment for the field events. The track team is improving each year. ■

With only one optional gymnast, Kim Shaffer, the varsity team has had a hard time getting the scores needed to win. Two returning members, Charlotte Jenkins and Denise Belnap, did very well on bars. Jenkins also did well on the balance beam. As a whole, the team's highest scores were on the bars. All members on the varsity squad worked all-around. The team of all underclassmen hopes to keep improving, and be the best next year.

On J.V., Sara Beas-Campo, Leslie Sparks, and Mary Tilley did great for the team. The entire team scored well on the vault, and will add much talent for next years varsity squad. ■

VARSITY BASEBALL . . .

Second year coach Art Warren was pleased with his baseball team which showed promise for a good year. Warren had many returning players who would form the backbone of the team. Although the Palomar League is a very tough league. Warren was counting on his pitchers for much support. They were Alex Borboa, Ray Chatton, Dave Miller, and Brett Salisbury. The pitchers had the experience and skill needed to make it a successful year.

On offense, Warren thought that his team would be able to hit and run just as good as anyone else. Some of the top hitters were Frank Escalante, Arcadio Naranjo, Ricky Martinez, and Brett Salisbury. The speed needed to get around the bases was supplyed by Arcadio Naranjo, Paul Temperendola, Matt Fiorello and Glen Reyes.

Many people believed that this was one of the best baseball teams that Orange Glen has had in some years. Yes, the 1986 Patriot baseball team was given credit for Warren's peace.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Swimmers stroke to perfection

A team of strength and power, this year's varsity swim team was lead to their many victories under the leadership of Senior Captains Paul Whiteley and Shawn Chlopek. The team's depth of Brian Williams, Ty Carss, Jimmy Weir, Terry Wrightson and Gene Johnson for the boys and Dorrie and Amy Manriquez, Lora Smith, Crystal Hollins and Jane Gerty for the girls helped the team swim by its close matches. Their spirit and pride was a great motivation to lead the team to their defeats. The swim team is growing in strength and numers each and every year. ■

VARSITY SOFTBALL

A winning tradition

Going for their fourth straight Palomar league championship, the varsity softball team worked hard to achieve their goals. They hoped to not only take the Palomar league, but also the C.I.F. Championship. With eight returning players, the team was very strong. Five of the eight returning players were seniors: Chris Dowler, Kelly Louis, Janice Taft, Sarah Tillyer, and Jonette Vinson. The six new members on the team added the extra strength needed to take on the Palomar league.

Second year coach Bill Rutledge put extra time and effort into the softball program to improve the facilities. Among the things he built were an equipment shed which is not only used for storing equipment, but also for ticket sales, a batting cage, and several batting stations.

With these and other improvements, the Patriots hope to continue their winning tradition. ■

GOLF
is up to Par

The sport of the 80's, GOLF. A sport of both individuality and team work. Dedication and hard work are the two winning keys to a successful golf team. Many of the teams in the Palomar league got the clue years back that golf would be a high contending sport. Unfortunately, Orange Glen started out slowly. However, it is never too late to build a program. In years to come golf is going to have to be stressed as a highly competitive sport. The more students join the more of a chance we have of having a successful team.

The team was mostly constructed of juniors with one senior, Kelly Brown, whom we will have a hard time letting go. Brian Bachman and David Anderson contributed much to the team. If they were not golfing, they were making jokes of how, "Golfers always get it in the hole", and "They get in a lot of good strokes in their playing time."

Knowing that these two were on the team, one knows that golf practice would never be boring. ■

J.V./FROSH TRACK

Small but powerful

This may have been the smallest team in years. Along with the Varsity, they could hardly field a team. Usually at the J.V. level the team is very large, filled with athletes not ready for varsity competition. Not in this case, hopefully this will not effect the fact the varsity team next year might be a little lacking. Coaches look forward to the runners that will be moving up, but when there aren't that many on the team, coaches worry. In many instances, J.V. runners were even given the chance to complete a spot on a distance or spring medley team. Running or competing at the varsity level will have helped them to gain experience for later seasons. Next year the team will hopefully be a little larger but for now you J.V. runners keep working and improving so some day you too will be at C.I.F. ■

J.V. SWIMMING

Float to the top

Getting up at 5:30 every morning to make it to Washington Park to begin practice for the swim team is what the J.V. Swim Team did. Practice lasted until 8:00, just enough time to make it for 2nd period.

Each practice consisted of a 1,000 yard warm-up, which included all four strokes, kick boards, and pulls. They also swam a mile to a mile and a half a day.

The J.V. team had many top swimmers. Jason Poole and William Newland swam their best at freestyle and backstroke. George Burrough was noted for his breaststroke, and Andy Taft for his freestyle swimming.

Newland, Poole, and Taft all got a chance to also swim on varsity.

For the girls, there was Shannon McNeil and Michelle White who had nearly perfect techniques in the breaststroke. Strength went to Janie Brown for her freestyle swimming. ■

The Senior class of '86- "A Class to remember" . . . Because of their great ability to plan ahead, the senior class began early in their high school career to earn money. They used close to $2,000 of that money to put up a sign at the back entrance of the school.

The class of '86 used their unique creativity to think of class mottos including "A class to remember" and their very own "Patriot Pride"- "Pretty Rowdy Individuals During Eightysix".

We know the class of 86 will be remembered for years to come because of their overwhelming contribution of school spirit.- Senior President Stephanie Bartlett and V.P. Monique Perez.

The Junior class of '87 is one that is filled with spirit as well as pride. This year's Junior class was active in a lot of activities including trying to plan out Prom. At the beginning of the year the Juniors and Seniors had their annual wars over the Homecoming floats. But this year was a bit more involved. With eggs, lemons, limes and oranges, and even stealing each other's equipment. The float was to represent summer, but unfortunately, the Juniors lost in the float competition to the seniors, all though the objectivity of the judges was questionable. As a way to dance that brought in some money. They chose the Hotel Del Coronado for the Prom sight and the theme of "Spring Fling".

The Juniors look forward to Powder Puff this year for the first time. They have the strength and ABILITY but lack experience. The class of '87 is a proud and spirited group that look forward to their senior year with anticipation and plan on making it the best one ever.- Junior President Michelle Wright and V.P. Kari Krekorian.

The Sophomore class of '88 seemed to have a real successful year. More people became involved in school activities. The sophomore class gave the school a lot of spirit and represented their class by attending a lot of J.V. sports. The year started off good with an excellent homecoming. The sophomore theme was "Spring". More people than last year got involved with helping out on the float and made it look great. As the year went on, the sophomore class became closer and more outgoing. They also provided a lot of good ideas for the school. We're hoping that next year will be an even better one for the class of '88 and that they will continue to grow in spirit and pride.- Sophomore President Susan Hazel and Joann Napier.-

The Freshmen class of '89 a good year despite the fact they did not participate greatly in most of the activities. They had a quaint homecoming float with the theme of "Autumn" and the freshmen cheerleaders helped with the spirit of the ninth graders. They raised around 800 dollars for their fund which the whole class helped to earn. The class of 89 is one which will grow to new heights of spirit as they progress in their high school career.- Frosh President Aaron Smith (Not pictured Vice-President Tanya De Cotes)

Excellence

This years ASB started out the year with PRIDE. Under the motivating leadership of President Paul Whiteley, ASB attempted to compensate for the new policy of closed campus. A.S.B. members worked hard on organizing class competitions during pep rallies and lunch, using gag competitions like the dog-bone tunnel, egg drop and animal voice games among others. Class competitions provided fun and something to watch.

A.S.B. also set up music throughout the year, weather permitting. Though they had to iron out the rough sports and dissatisfied listeners, overall the music was a success. Eventually requests were honored and a huge variety of tunes were played.

The hypnotist came once again this year and again provided a good and interesting show on the art of hypnotism.

Homecoming and spirit week, which were also A.S.B. sponsored were a huge success. 1986 A.S.B. changed Homecoming the ceremony nicely by adding convertibles to bring in royalty from throughout the 4 years of high school from the class of '86 and last year's senior royalty. Fire works were used to light up the night, and the freshman football team re-whitened the OG on the hill.

As the year came to an end plans for next year's ASB came into action. Dominated by Seniors in 1985-1986, ASB welcomes new members for 86-87. It's a fun way to get involved in school and get your ideas put into action so, GO FOR IT! ■

Students fight to end drunk driving

A very serious and wide spread problem in the United States is drunk driving. A large portion of these accidents involve high school students, and as a result, the problem hits close to home for many. In past years several students have been seriously injured and even killed in drunk driving accidents. A nationwide organization, Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), came to our school this year. The response was not great for the club, but as the year progressed more students became aware of the club and joined.

The club's advisor is Mrs. Bolger, and its officers are, Carlos Ulloa, President, Aaron Smith, Vice President, Rhonda Canedy, Treasurer, and Meredith Rodenbugh, Secretary. With so few students it was difficult to plan many activities but they attended a conference held in San Diego during April. A fund-raiser they held that was quite original was the car smash, where a junky old car was brought in and students paid 25¢ each to pound on it with a mallot. They also made posters during Christmas that said "Keep the Christmas spirit in your heart, not your, glass", and Sober Graduation posters towards the end of the year. Hopefully the SADD chapter will grow larger and stronger in the coming years, since it is one of the most important issues and has the most tragic results of anything else in the United States today. Do you have problems caused by someone else's drinking?? Alateen is new this year on O.G.'s campus. It is an anonymous group that meets weekly to provide support to students whose lives are affected by someone else's drinking of alcohol. The program is patterned after Alcoholic's Anonymous. ■

SURF CLUB

Only a surfer knows the feeling

Nothing gets a surfer's blood going like the sight of perfect waves barrelling over left and right. It gets these guys pumped up, motivated, and ready to rip up the surf. No one doubts the competition involved in surfing even if it is just a fun day out.

A few of these surfers at our school get together and organized a Surf Club to compete and surf against other schools. They are all out there to catch that one perfect wave, not necessarily to get more points than the other surfers but maybe to just the satisfaction of doing one maneuver better than the last.

This year is the start of something new. "There hasn't been Surf Club's in the past here at Orange Glen but hopefully this will continue and attract more people so there will be more contests to compete in," says Todd Stanley.

Coach Cummings was chosen by a few of the surfers because they knew of his past surfing experiences. They felt he was the practical guy for the job. ■

DECA
Goes down to Georgia

This year Orange Glen's Deca Chapter achieved new heights in both education and competition. Mr. Hughes, the longtime advisor received a grant to buy many more computers and the Deca class was split into two classes, one that ran the student store during lunch, and another one called "Computers and Marketing" which worked with the computers designing programs and keeping books and inventory of stock.

As usual, the members of the class competed in conferences where they were quizzed and interviewed about their business knowledge. They attended district, region, state and national conferences in San Diego, San Bernardino, Anaheim and the climax in Atlanta, Georgia. These trips were paid for the money provided from the student store. In the store the students learn to use the cash registers and sell food.

Several outstanding members were Susan Martin who captured first place in the state competition, Carlos Ulloa, who received second in his category, Shevon Harris, who is Vice President of the California Deca Chapter, Doug Gann, and Gabe Borboa. ■

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Visitors from a far

At Orange Glen this year, we had foreign students from many corners of the world; places such as Paraguay, Holland, Germany. It should be such an honor to be given the chance to be able to go to another country, to experience new cultures and make many new friends you will always remember.

So, the next time you see someone from a foreign country, go up and introduce yourself and make a new friend for life. ■

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

This is the first year for anew orginazation at Orange Glen, Future Homemakers of America. The club is a national one, not unlike Deca, and their main purose is to inform students of career potentials in Home Economics and Homemaking occupations. The advisor is also new to our school, Mrs. Palskill. Several activities they have planned include get togethers at Mrs. Palskill's house, and a campaign along with a major supermarket and the Coca-Cola company to help find missing children. They also have fundraisers to aid the Homemaking Department. In addition, a field trip has been planned to educate students in the field of fashion buying by taking them to Horton Plaza to meet with a professional buyer from a major department store. They also plan to attend a state conference later in the year with their elected chapter officials: President Kim Anderson, V.P. Cheri Lavoie, and Secretary Debbie Snyder. ■

JUNIOR STATESMEN OF AMERICA

Among several new organizations at Orange Glen this year is Junior Statesmen of America, or JSA. JSA is an international organization whose purpose is to inform and make high school students more politically aware of the issues and contoversies happening in the world today.

The group meets during lunch several times a month, During their meetings they hold debates over controversial subjects such as capital punishment, abortion and homosexual marriages. They have had very successful and heated debates about the "F Street Bookstore" and legal abortion. In addition to debates they have "thought talks" which are informal discussions over varied topics.

In the fall and spring they attend state conferences where they meet with other students of the same interests. They attend workshops and lectures, as well as social activities. They also witnessed a mock trial where they saw an actual hearing played out before them. JSA is an informative club geared toward the more politically and socially minded student. The O.G. chapter's advisor is Alice Byrne, and the officers are President Pat Morrow, V.P. Abby Hidalgo, and Secretary Bill Dowler. ■

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club was not large in number but they were an intelligent group of people with a true interest in a heritage. The club was made up of mostly Spanish 3 and 4 students, which are made up of Juniors and Seniors. The officers were Carlos Ulloa, President, Alan Bathgate Vice-President, Sandy Partta, Treasurer, and Eric Flickinger, Secretary. The advisors were Mr. Lambert and Mr. Jones, and they planned, along with the members, exciting activities that were educational as well as fun. During the year the club went out to dinner at several Mexican restaurants in the area, including one in Old Town. A trip to Olvera Street in Los Angeles was also planned. But perhaps the most exciting and certainly the most educational is the 28-day trip to Spain, planned for this summer. They will be traveling all over the country and even into Africa for one day. They will study in Salamanca, Sapin while they reside with Spanish families. This will definitely prove to be a highlight the students will remember for quite a while. Muy Bien, Amigos! ■

GERMAN CLUB

German club, one of the longer standing organizations at O.G., returned in '86 with about 50 members. There aren't any officers of the club, and usually at meetings they just talk and decide what kind of activities they will do. So far this year they have gone on a ski trip, and to the waterslides at the Family Fun Center. To pay for these trips they sold candy. The membership is split equally between seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen. The purpose of the German club is to provide a social atmosphere outside of school, with other students that share a common interest in the German language. ■

NCAL
Outsmarts opponents

What Shakesperean king was actually a King of Scotland for 17 years? The answer of course is Macbeth and this is just an example of the potpourri of questions that can be heard at a North County Academic League match.

North County Academic League of NCAL for short is a season of competitions held every Spring at North County high schools. Every year, North County Conference, the governing body of all Avocado and Palomar league sports and NCAL, writes thousands of questions for use by 14 North County schools. Sandra Boldt, head coach of the Patriots, started practice 3 months before the first contest to help maintain our history of strong teams. In 1984, the Junior Varsity team won the Palomar league title.

On Friday nights during the season, NCAL members gather at a teammate's house to discuss previous matches and study to improve for the next match. They also have Farrell's parties, swim parties and other social events throughout the year. ■

ACADEMIC DECATHALON

Smart people know their stuff

The 1985-86 Academic Decathalon team put out a great contest and readied themselves for next year. Joel Rising in speech and Jeff Rawlings in economics and physics placed in the county to give OG a good finish.

Academic Decathalon, a contest consisting of many categories that require many academic talents from the competitors. Students must be good all-around students that are very good in a wide variety of subject areas. All San Diego County high schools are eligible to compete in this competition. Months of practice and preparing are for a good team. All the preparing comes down to one day at UCSD.

Joel and Jeff, both beings Juniors will bring strength to the team next year along with the new sophomores to give us a very good team in 1986-87. ■

NJROTC

Shows it's pride.

NJROTC drove for a commitment to excellence this year. They have been to Naval Training Command to learn about and work with damage control on ships, as well as to "Mini" Boot Camp, which is an Easter version of the actual boot camp training cadets go through. Also, they have gone on several at-sea cruises where they have received training on actual ships. This year NJROTC toured the Friggate U.S.S. Meyerchord and have participated in several parades.

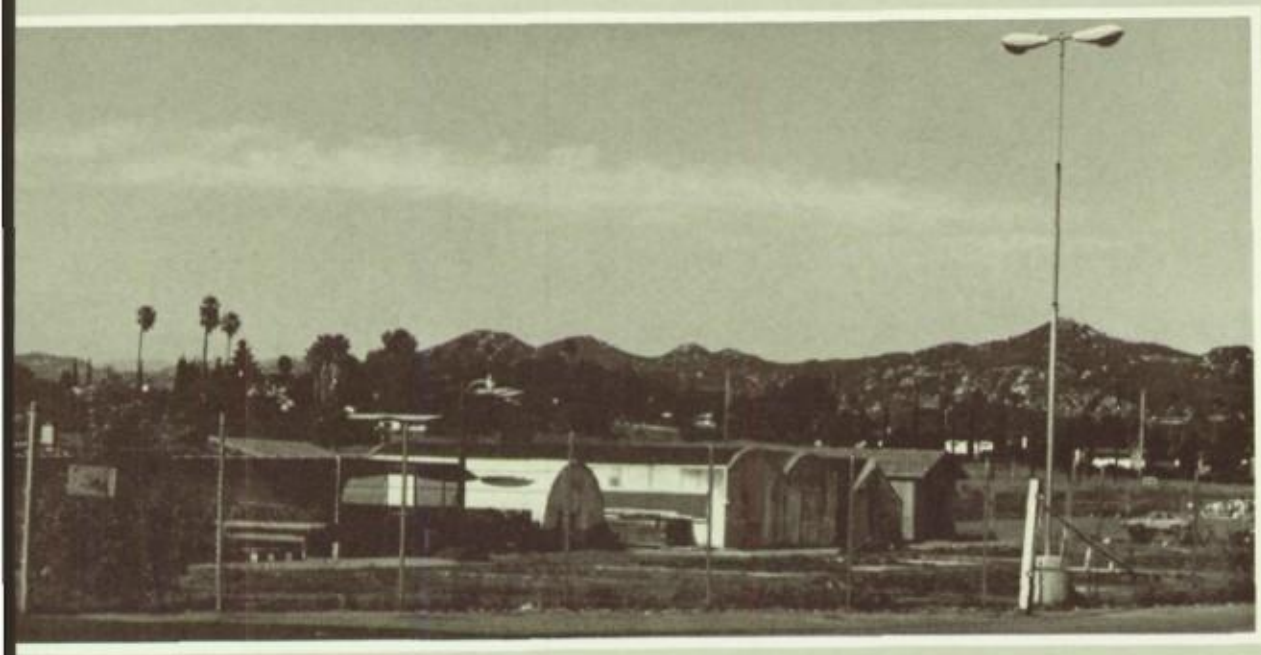
FFA



Future Farmers of America is an organization for students who are interested in farming and agriculture in the modern United States. It is comparable to 4-H in its program, although FFA is usually a school oriented club where 4-H is open to the community. These subjects are also taught in the plant and animal science classes at school and are continued further for the FFA members. Here they learn about plants, animals, farming crops, and other subjects having to do with agriculture.

In February, they held a field day in which students brought in their animals to show. Horses, sheep, goats, rabbits, chickens and even a mountain lion were exhibited throughout the day for everyone at school to see. The FFA also hold and attends conferences and raises livestock to be judged and sold at the Del Mar fair in June. Since Escondido and Valley Center are chiefly rural areas this is a good club for students who want to learn about the opportunities of the region in which they live. ■

The California Scholarship Federation is a statewide service organization comprised of the top scholastic students of the state. To be a C.S.F. member a student must receive a minimum of 3 A's and one B per semester for eligibility. Annual activities for C.S.F. are the spring blood bank drive, assisting with fall registration, and a trip to Disneyland sponsored by C.S.F. They also helped to improve our school by doing other activities such as tree planting and campus beautification.

Lifetime members are those students who have maintained membership for four semesters including one in their senior year. Special privileges for lifetime members include parking in the faculty parking lot, a gold seal on their diploma and a gold tassle and sash at graduation. ■

YEARBOOK

Changes Are IN

1986 brought many changes to the yearbook staff. With the retirement of longtime advisor Galen Keunhast, came new English teacher and advisor Alan Dale. There were also many new students, and a lot of inexperience. However, things smoothed out as the year progressed and everyone became more enthusiastic and creative, their common bond being their concern for the success of the yearbook. After some deliberation, a theme was decided on and we set to work.

A few of the new staff members and the editor, Carlos Ulloa, attended a yearbook camp over the summer at the University of San Diego. There they learned about designing layouts, writing copy and keeping the overall theme throughout the yearbook. This book could not have been made without the help of the dedicated people on the staff, and our advisor Mr. Dale.

With more experience coming back next year, the underclass staff hopes to put together the best yearbook ever for O.G.'s 25th anniversary in '87! ■

PEER COUNSELING

A chance to talk

The Peer Counseling program was initiated at O.G.H.S. the Fall of 1985. The first class was composed of fourteen students who came from Psychology classes; their training period lasted for one month, they began to work with students. The Peer Counselors could be seen every day talking and listening with their counselees everywhere on campus.

The program provided assistance to students to help them overcome attendance problems social and personal difficulties. Welcome and orientation to OGHS was another function of the Peer Counselors. ■

DANCE

The Orange Glen Dance class continued its fine tradition of performances in 1986. Led and advised by P.E. teacher Mrs. Watkins, the class finally found its niche in the curriculum at Orange Glen. The class is considered a P.E. class and the students get P.E. credits for taking it. This year there were no beginning classes and all the students have had some dance experience. They held concerts in the fall and spring in which the students performed the dances they have choreographed themselves. Each girl did 3 or 4 dances, including jazz dances, theme dances such as ballet, mime or cabaret, and a group dance with most of the members. They also went on field trips such as a workshop at Palomar College and a Dance Confereence in Riverside. To pay for their outings and costumes they held fundraisers by selling locker mirrors, magnetic calendars and Patriots shoelaces. Some outstanding members of the class include Andrea Holloway, who performed 2 solos at the concert and has 13 years of dance experience. ■

DRAMA acts up again

Drama did a great job with the three plays they put on. First came "Scapino", a humorous play about the antics of a man named Scapino (played by Guy Cook and Spencer Farmer) and his friends. Next came "Arsenic and Old Lace", a humorous murder story about 2 old ladies (played by Amy Hull and Jenny Celise.) Last but not least came the Shakespearean classic, "A Mid Summer's Night Dream." Mr. Shive and the drama club worked long and hard, and all of the play were a success. ■

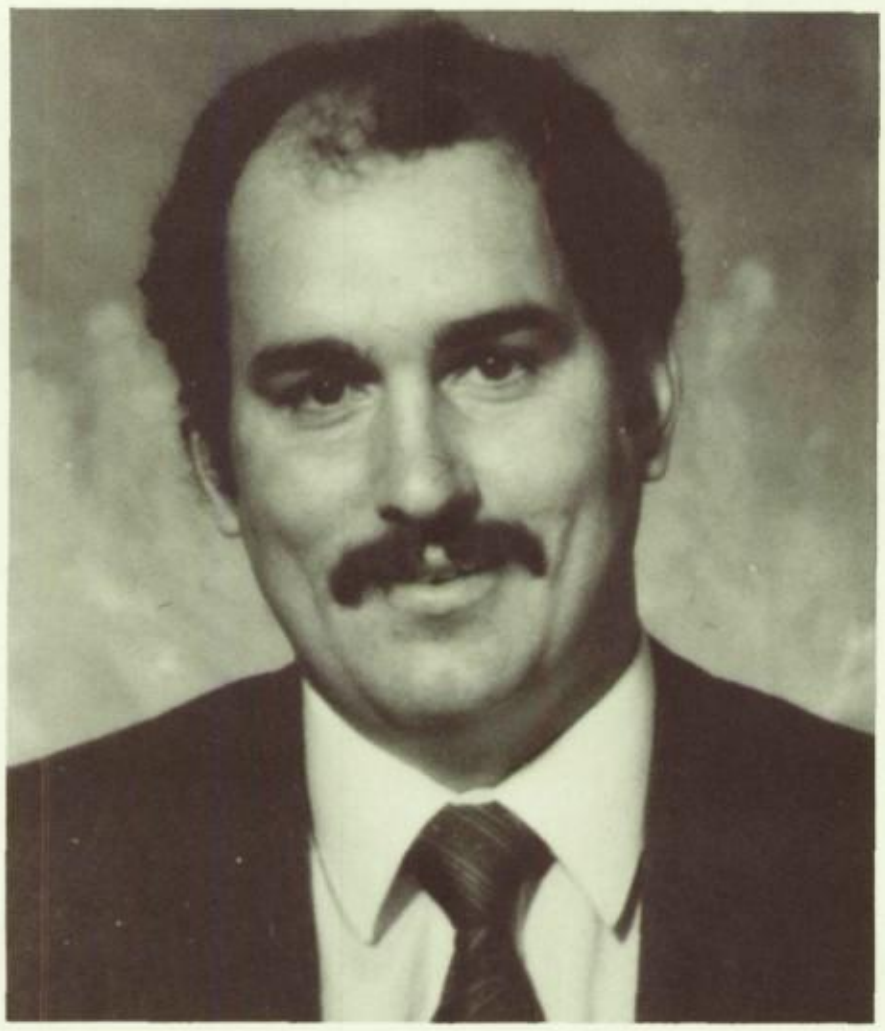
SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS



Dr. Ed Brand

The year 1985 brought quite a few changes to Orange Glen. Including a major change in the administration. Dr. Fred Heinle, last year's principal, was promoted to the board of trustees and thus a new principal came to Orange Glen. Dr. Ed Brand started out the year by bringing a new program, the students' advisory committees, to give the students input in the operations concerning the rights of students. Brand also had to deal with a lot of static caused by the closing of campus during lunch. His determination worked against this static to make O.G. a better school. He instated stricter policies against tardies and truancies. He greatly improved the attitudes of the students about their school.

Following Dr. Brand's tracks and carrying out the discipline and much of the every day functions of the school were the familiar vice-principals, Jackie Nichols and Norman Barnhard. Mrs. Nichols has been at Orange Glen for many years and Mr. Barnhard has had a lot of experience in Escondido's high schools. Their jobs may not be the most popular with the students but they do much more than discipline students.

The mixture of old and new in the administration brought a sense of stability to our school, and instilled a greater understanding and respect for the leaders of Orange Glen High School. ■

COUNSELORS

Guiding our scholastic steps

The counseling staff here is a very understanding and competent group of people. Every semester, when it comes time to register again for the succeeding semester, the counselors go over schedules with the students, advising them as to what classes would be to their advantage to take, considering their future goals. Their jobs are very important for they are responsible for guiding us through our high school years and into college or a suitable career. They often play the medium when there is a problem between a student and a teacher. The counselor works for both people to find a solution that will work out better for both. They are very useful and deserve more appreciation than they usually get. ■

STAFF LAFF

Mr. Jones shows us how to kick back and enjoy.

The untold stories

HELLO, and welcome to the wonderful page of Staff Laff! Staff Laff is a fun page designed for your pleasure. It contains features from three of our beloved mentors, and their own personal accounts of very embarrassing and sometimes funny moments that happened to them sometime in their lives. So grab a cool one (soda), kick back, and enjoy!

"Skiing through the Trees."

Tony Ricketts

"I've been skiing for 14 years, so whenever I go skiing, I need a challenge. This one particular ski trip, the (ski) runs were really easy. So I decided to ski between the trees. Of course, you figure I must have skied into a tree, but that didn't happen. Instead I managed to catch the back end of my ski in the cuff of my pants, because I was showing off, and dug the front end into the snow. Well, I ripped my pants all the way to the crotch and tumbled 25 yards down the slopes into the trees. The most embarrassing part wasn't the fall, but the walk back up the slope with one pant leg on and one side without."

"Too late to turn Back."

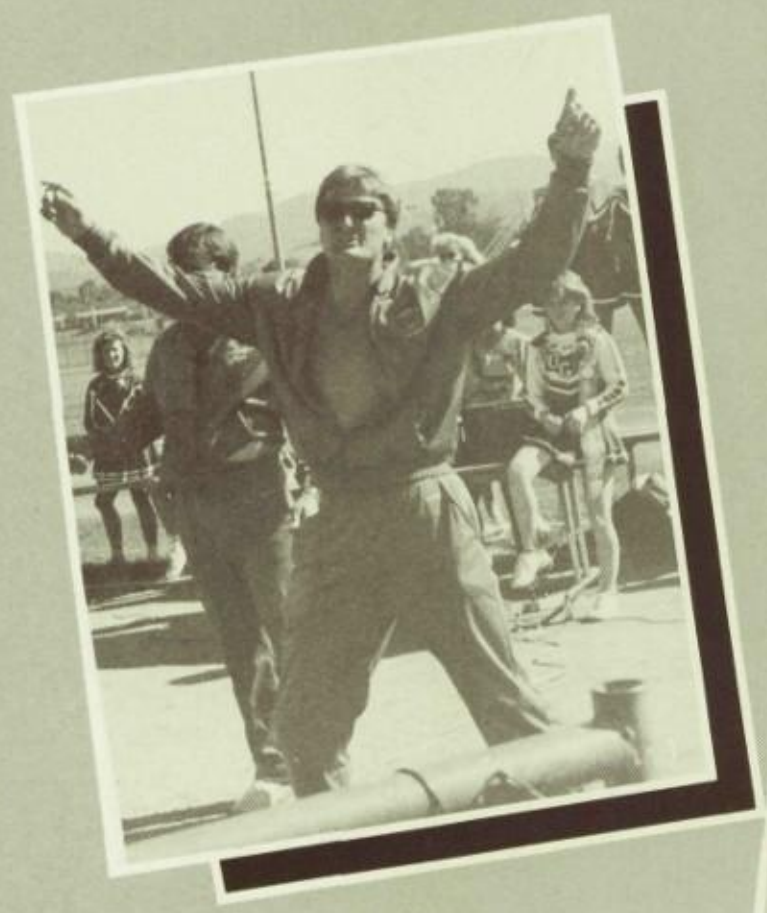
Fred Georggin

"I was vacationing in Vienna, and since it was Sunday, all the business and major tourist attractions were therefore closed for the weekend, so I decided to walk through a small town near Vienna. I saw a sign for a public sunbathing establishment and decided to go in. I paid my money and walked through the turnstyle. Then I found that I was the only person dressed in a nudist colony. I felt a little overdressed so I decided "What the heck," and after my initial shock, I stripped off my clothes and spent an enjoyable afternoon in the sun."

"Kidnapped!"

Eddie Smith

"There was a tradition in my college sorority for the pledges to take a "sneak" just before their initiation. During the sneak, they were "permitted" to do all kinds of wild and silly things to the older members. During one sneak, I was kidnapped by some of the pledges. They grabbed me as I left class, blindfolded me, held my hands, hung a sign around my neck and made me walk across campus to a car. Then they drove me to downtown San Jose. They led me into a large, crowded drugstore. As I groped around, I could hear people laughing at my plight. The whole scene was very embarrassing!"



1. My Girl, as performed by Coach Gilster, braggingly.
2. Busy on her computer, Mrs. Boldt is about to prepare an assignment.
3. Clowing around, Ms. Maloney strikes a joking pose.
4. Instructionally, Mr. Sowers lectures on reduction of fractions.

CUSTODIANS AND SECURITY

Orange Glen's campus is a very large place, especially in the eyes of those who are in charge of keeping it clean. The janitors play mother by picking up after nearly 2000 usually sloppy teenagers. One has to be pretty patient and love their work to pick up trash every day. Even when school is out, after school, and on weekends and holidays, the janitors are out there improving the overall appearance of the school. They are always willing to open a jammed up locker or clean up a gross mess. They do an almost thankless but ever-necessary job as our campus crusaders for cleanliness. Every day the clean floors and classrooms are taken for granted by students who just throw gum and candy wrappers on the floors of the rooms, and napkins and coke cans on the grass or sidewalks during lunch. Unbelievable as it may seem, the trash cans are not just for decoration. Without the janitors our school would more closely resemble the dump. The janitors silently keep the school in order and should be commended for their great jobs. So say thanks by using a trash can once in a while. Everyone will benefit. ■

WHEELS THAT TRED THE GROUND & GET US IN & AROUND

One of the most memorable things about high school is learning to drive, Drivers Ed., getting your license, and finally getting your car. For most people, it ends there. But for a few, the cycle will have just begun and will go much further. It may start with getting a stock or classic car.

Then it gets really bad-wheels, tires, paint, chrome engine, customizing the interior are just a few.

There are as many different styles as people. There are 4x4's, lowered mini trucks, stock cars, Cal-style bugs, Baja bugs, street hot-rods and muscle cars. Everyone having their own personal favorite.

Many of these people are so dedicated that they'll spend countless hours washing, waxing and putting those finishing touches on their cars. It may well be more than a hobby, it can become an obsession.

These people get to know frustration, but being diehards, they will attain their goal and great personal feeling that goes with it. Is it worth it? Sure! It pays off on Saturday nights. For others, just getting their car is enough. Their drivers license becomes a license for fun.

Beach trips, cruisin' or going somewhere in their own car are all a big part of having cars in high school. ■

MEET ME AT THE FAIR—

The excitement began for North County 4 years ago when the proposed site of Kit Carson Park land was approved for the building of a new mall. To many of us, 1986 was far away, in fact, for some, the year we will graduate. Well 1986 did come and on February 18th of the same year, so did the North County Fair. The excitement of our own mall brought mostly curious residents out in the first few weeks. Dick Clark, clowns, magicians, and everything else that goes along with the fair, including animal shows from the Wild Animal Park made appearances. Having our own mall will help keep out "Valley Girl" fashion image, and keep Escond updated on new fashion from around the wo The North County Fair also give young people more reason to skip school!

AID FOR AFRICA

Despite the flood of aid to Africa's starving millions, an entire generation may be lost in the drought belt of Africa as the famine continues to take the young. Across the subsaharan drought belt, three quarters of the people dying are are under the age of five. The hunger these children suffer causes lasting damage — bones become brittle and warped, growth is inhibited, eyes are blinded, life expectancy drops to 19th century levels. Lethal diseases spring from the famine and filth that goes with it. Most of the victims will never have a chance to catch up. Hunger is supposed to be a sovable problem. Put the food where its needed and SAVE THE CHILDREN. The cause of starving Africa was mobilized in 1985. Americans alone contributed more than $1 billion this year. So far, despite the outpouring of concern and even despite the recent arrival of rain in some parts of Africa, the famine goes on, worse than ever for the children. ■

LIVE-AID

Onstage in Philadelphia and London simultaneously, Rock Stars jammed for the cause of hunger. It was the ultimate in rock entertainment. Three quarters of Led Zepplin, Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, The Beach Boys, and The Who were among the reunited bands. Madonna, Sade, Roger Daltrey, Mick Jagger, Tina Turner, Phil Collins, Hall & Oates and Sting made apPpearances, just to name a few. ■

RAMBO FEVER

It caught on like wildfire-kids playing in camouflage and tofing plastic machine guns and rubber Rambo knives. Parents began to wonder if they were really their kids! Even high schools wore Rambo-gear. The only question is- How many sequals are we going to have to sit through? ■

HALLEYS COMET

For more than three decades, the distant star had grown bigger and brighter in the blackness of space. Now the icy wayfarer was picking up speed and the star had become a shining yellow sphere, it's intense light illuminating the planets encircling it. The approaching comet warmed, giving off vapors that formed a growing cloud around itself and the brightining light; the cloud began to glow. For inhabitants of earth, the third closest planet to the star, the long awaited spectacle had begun. After a 75 year sojourn through the solar system, Halley's Comet had again swung into view, but just barely. At Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, several telescopes tracked the approaching comet, projecting images that flickered across television monitors. But like countless amateur stargazers around the world, the astronomers want to see the cosmic celebrity with the human eyes. Huddled in the chill mountain air outside an observatory dome, astronomers and a group of visitors searched a patch of sky. And there it was. The sight however was not spectacular, because it was still too far from the sun to sport a visible tail, and 58 million miles away from the earth, the comet looked like a little smudge and dusty fingerprints. For the skywatchers, the appearance of Halley's Comet was a once-in-a-lifetime event. They viewed it as a sort of psychological landmark. Just to see it at all is a thrill. ■

. . . no one is immune

AIDS: The Frightening Threat now that the disease is out, how far will it spread? By early in 1985, most Americans had become aware of AIDS, conscious of it overnight from someone elses problem, a "gay plague", to a cause of international alarm. AIDS was suddenly a front-page disease, the lead-item on the evening news and a frequent topic on TV talk shows. There seemed to be no end to the reports: *Rock Hudson succombs to AIDS at the UCLA Medical Center. *Lester Maddox, former governor of Georgia, was tested to see if he contracted the virus through a contaminated blood serum in the Bahamas. *At a New York TV station, technicians refused to work on an interview with an AIDS victim. Interview dropped.

*Federal scientists announced that screening tests being used at blood banks have been "slightly successful" in eliminating the AIDS virus from the nations blood supply.

*In Kokomo, Indiana, a 13 year-old hemopheliac was denied permission to attend the local middle school because he has AIDS. Irrational fear, paranoia and apocalyptic statements have abounded. Many scientists have termed AIDS "the disease of the century." Others have viewed it as God's revenge on the junkies and sodomites. Unlike the many major epidemics throughout history Cholera, the Spanish flu, etc., which always had the hope of the fever lifting, and it eventually did, the word "cure" is no part of the AIDS vocabulary. It is the virtual certainty of death from AIDS once the symptoms develop that makes the disease so frightening, along with the uncertainty of nearly everything else about it. Despite the progress in medical research so far huge questions remain about its origin in nature.

Scientists view AIDS as a vast sea of unknown. They are trying to learn more about how and when the disease is spread. Just how immediate a threat AIDS poses to heterosexuals is much debated. The fact is, nobody knows most heterosexual transmission has been from men to women. The one thing scientists are sure about is the attack of the virus, and who it attacks. ■

CHRISTA MCAULIFFE

The first civilian to go into space, Chris McAuliffe poses in July, 1985, with her fa ily at home in Concord. McAuliffe was kill along with the entire crew of the Space Shut Challenger when it exploded shortly after liftof McAuliffe's elementary school class watched wi confusion and sorrow as their beloved teach Christa, took off onto an adventure turned disaste ■

. . . an american tragedy

The Space Shuttle Challenger's tenth journey into space on Tuesday, January 28, had been carefully planned out. So carefully planned that they attempted to overlook small details at liftoff. It was a record cold day in Florida, there were icicles on the launch pad. The shuttles Democratic crew; Christa McAuliffe (teacher), Francis Scobie (commander), Judith Resnik (electrical engineer), Ronald McNair (physicist), Michael Smith (Pilot), Ellison Onizuka (aerospace engineer), and Gregory Jarvis (electrical engineer), were victims of a 73 second tragedy. The 1.2 billion dollar workhorse on which they had been riding was totally destroyed. Only fragments of Challenger have been found floating around in the Atlantic Ocean. They have recovered some of the passengers bodies, limbs, clothing or something representing the passengers they say.

On Tuesday, January 28, the countdown reached T minus nine minutes and stayed there for four hours. This delay proved to be most embarrassing. A sticky bolt prevented the removal of an exterior hatch handle. Lockheed technicians called for a special drill, which took 20 minutes to arrive. When it did, the battery was dead. There were no replacements on hand. After 90 minutes of fiddling, an ordinary hacksaw was used to free the bolt. Now the countdown proceeded. Lift off of the 25th Space Shuttle mission, and it cleared the tower. At 35 seconds the shuttles engines were throttled back to 65% of full power to pass through the zone of high turbulence. At 52 seconds of flight the engine went throttle up, full throttle. Then at 70 seconds an orange glow flickered just past the center of the orbiter, between the shuttles belly and the adjecent external tank. Now the fire had flared out from the right rocket booster and danced upward to the left rocket booster. Then the external tank exploded into an orange/yellow flame. That was the last of the Space Shuttle Challenger, and the beginning of a large investigation.

TWA HOSTAGES

Terror strikes in Beirut.

June of 1985 the hijacking of TWA flig 847 by 2 Lebanese terrorist began. Th terrorists took the flight back and forth to Algie three times making various political demands. Whi holding several innocent victims hostage many we injured and one U.S. Marine was murdered. Negoti tors got several hostages released and eventually remaining were freed. American ex-hostages we flown to Frankfort, Germany to receive medical he and for questioning. ■

SUMMIT TALKS

The meeting of two great countries

In December of 1985, Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev met in Geneva and interpreted the world through differing points of new, coming from different countries with different cultures and different histories. Reagan explained America to Gorbechev and Gorbachev explained the Soviet Union to Reagan. Neither was impressed to the point of detecting. More useful than cross-cultural perspective was what each man learned about the other, the lessons of eye-contact and close human inspection.

A summit meeting is in part of public ceremony of reassurance, an international soothing. To many, the meeting seemed past due. The United States and the Soviet Union, the power countries of the nuclear age, had not had a summit conference since 1979. The super powers used the years to stockpile their nuclear weapons and menace each other, glowering across the distance, while the rest of the world watched tensely.

Geneva produced neither great treaties nor triumphant rhetoric. The grey prose in use for such occasions reported that "the meetings were frank and useful. Serious differences remain." If Geneva represented anything, it was the triumph of cander and realism-no one got carried away.

It was an extraordinary encounter the most powerful forces in human history suddenly condensed, embodied in two men coming in and out of the mountain cold and sitting down by a fire to talk. What mattered for then, was more that conversation began than that the treaties be signed. The important moments of one of the centurys great public encounters transpired in sealed privacy. The top advisors on both sides paced in outer rooms, muttering, consulting their watches.

At the next summit scheduled for '86, the pressure will be on risk letting the hopes of arms control forever slip away. At the very least, the fact that they will soon be meeting again, with the whole world watching once more and by then hoping for more than just smiles and handshakes, will help concentrate the minds of Reagan and Gorbachev and their advisors and force them to face some hard and historic choices. ■

TEEN PREGNANCY

Each year more than a million American teenagers become pregnant, and four out of five of them are unmarried. Together they represent a distressing flaw in the society of America. Teenage pregnancy has been around as long as there have been teenagers. The dimensions of its social costs and the urgent need to attack the problem are just beginning to be widely appreciated. Teen pregnancy imposes lasting hardships on two generations: Parent and child. Teen mothers are, for instance, many times as likely as other women with young children to live below the poverty level. As infants, the offspring of teen mothers have high rates of illness and mortality. Later in life, they often experience educational and emotional problems. Many are victims of child abuse at the hands of parents to immature to handle their baby crying. They are more likely to be teen parents themselves. ■

QUEST FOR PEACE

Reverand Jesse Jackson and Jane Gruenebaum carry a box with a million U.S. signatures beneath a portrait of Lenin inside the Soviet mission in Geneva to give to the Soviets. The signatures, half to be handed over later in the U.S., call for a superpower ban on nuclear testing. The Rev. Jesse Jackson arrived in Geneva just before the Summit Meeting. ■

OUR SCHOOLS WILL TOO!

Something new in California — The Lottery! These big green and gold L's began popping up at every grocery store, liquor store, mini-mart and even restaurant in town. People poured billion of dollars into tickets every week, and the lucky ones won millions in return. Everyones dream became "winning the big one!" Who knows, maybe for some of us, like Allen Leisten who won $25,000 instantly, our dream will come true. ■

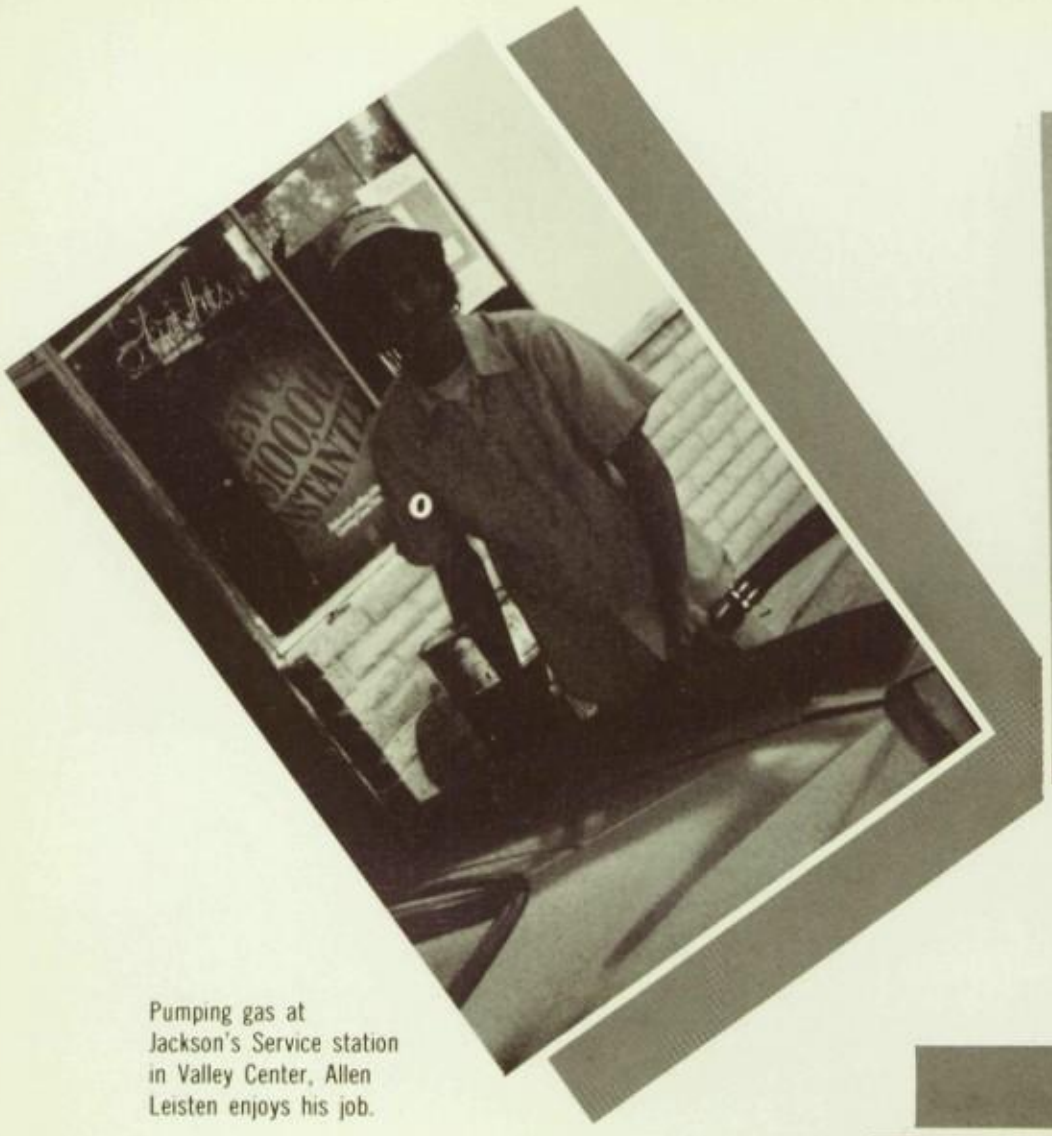
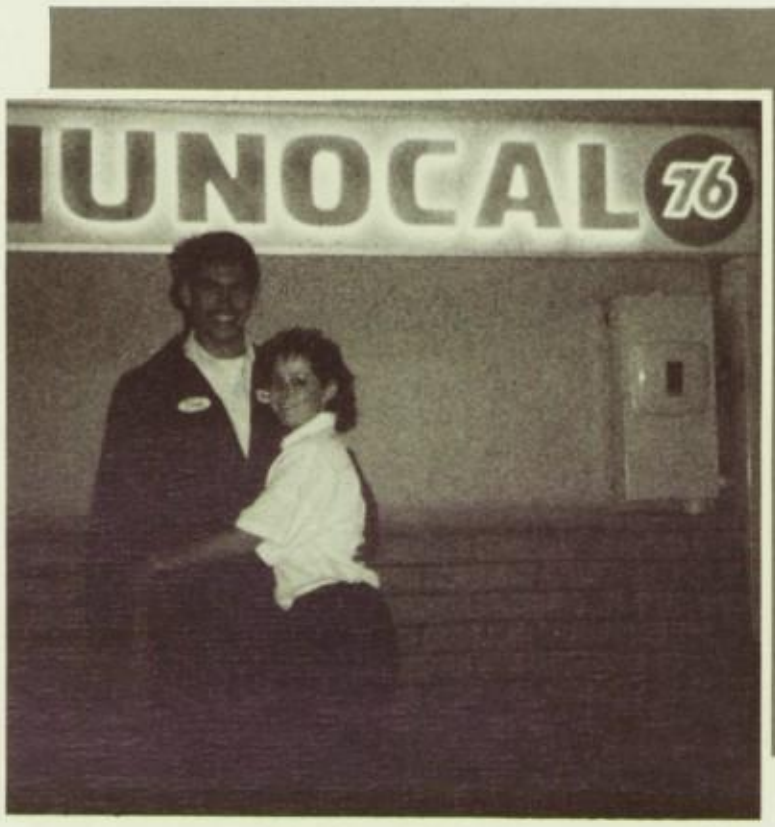
WORKING HARD ON THE JOB!



Pumping gas at Jackson's Service station in Valley Center, Allen Leisten enjoys his job.

Palomar Hospital provided fun and interesting jobs for many seniors. Pete Taylor, Sharon Garcia, Paula Bechtold, Cindy Grimes, and Jon Glines take a minute in front of the time clock for a snapshot. Kelly Brown had the day off!



Cindy meets Doug Gambold after work at the new and modern 76 station on Valley.

"Will that be all today?" Tracy Page helps a customer at Long's Drug Store. Heather Holmes wasn't available for a picture, she also works at Long's.

You can tell Julie Eastwood really loves pouring slurpees at 7-Eleven! C'mon Julie, give us a real smile! Thank-you.

Weekend Obsessions

The end of the week is coming up and everybody is planning for their weekend. It's time to get a hold of friends, make phone calls and plan on doing that one obsession you've been waiting for all week. Usually you'll find all your friends at one big party or some people will be off doing their own thing. There's always the weekend trip to the desert to get wild on ATC's and motocycles or that stokable trip to the mountains to go skiing. DAWN PATROL; saturday morning; where the waves are breaking the best is where you'll find the surfers. Then around 10:00 when the sun breaks out all the girls are out during the peak "tanning hours." The night life at the local dancing places is where you'll find those letting loose all that energy that builds up during the week. Everybody has their different taste in music but when it comes to dancing everybody goes to the same beat. You will always see some of your friends cruisin' around on their skateboards or you can find the more serious skaters at the Del Mar Skateboard Park.

For those of us who work, when payday comes around on Friday, head straight to the band after school then the wallet is loaded for the weekend. A new mall is just what all the shoppers needed. A hundred fifty more places to spend our money! It's great.

Everybody will always have their different weekend obsession, but for all of us Monday comes too fast.

California Dreamin'....

U-R-A COOL FRIEND

Yo, how's Dennis? Party perverted that's cool Glad I met cha. C-ya

Eric

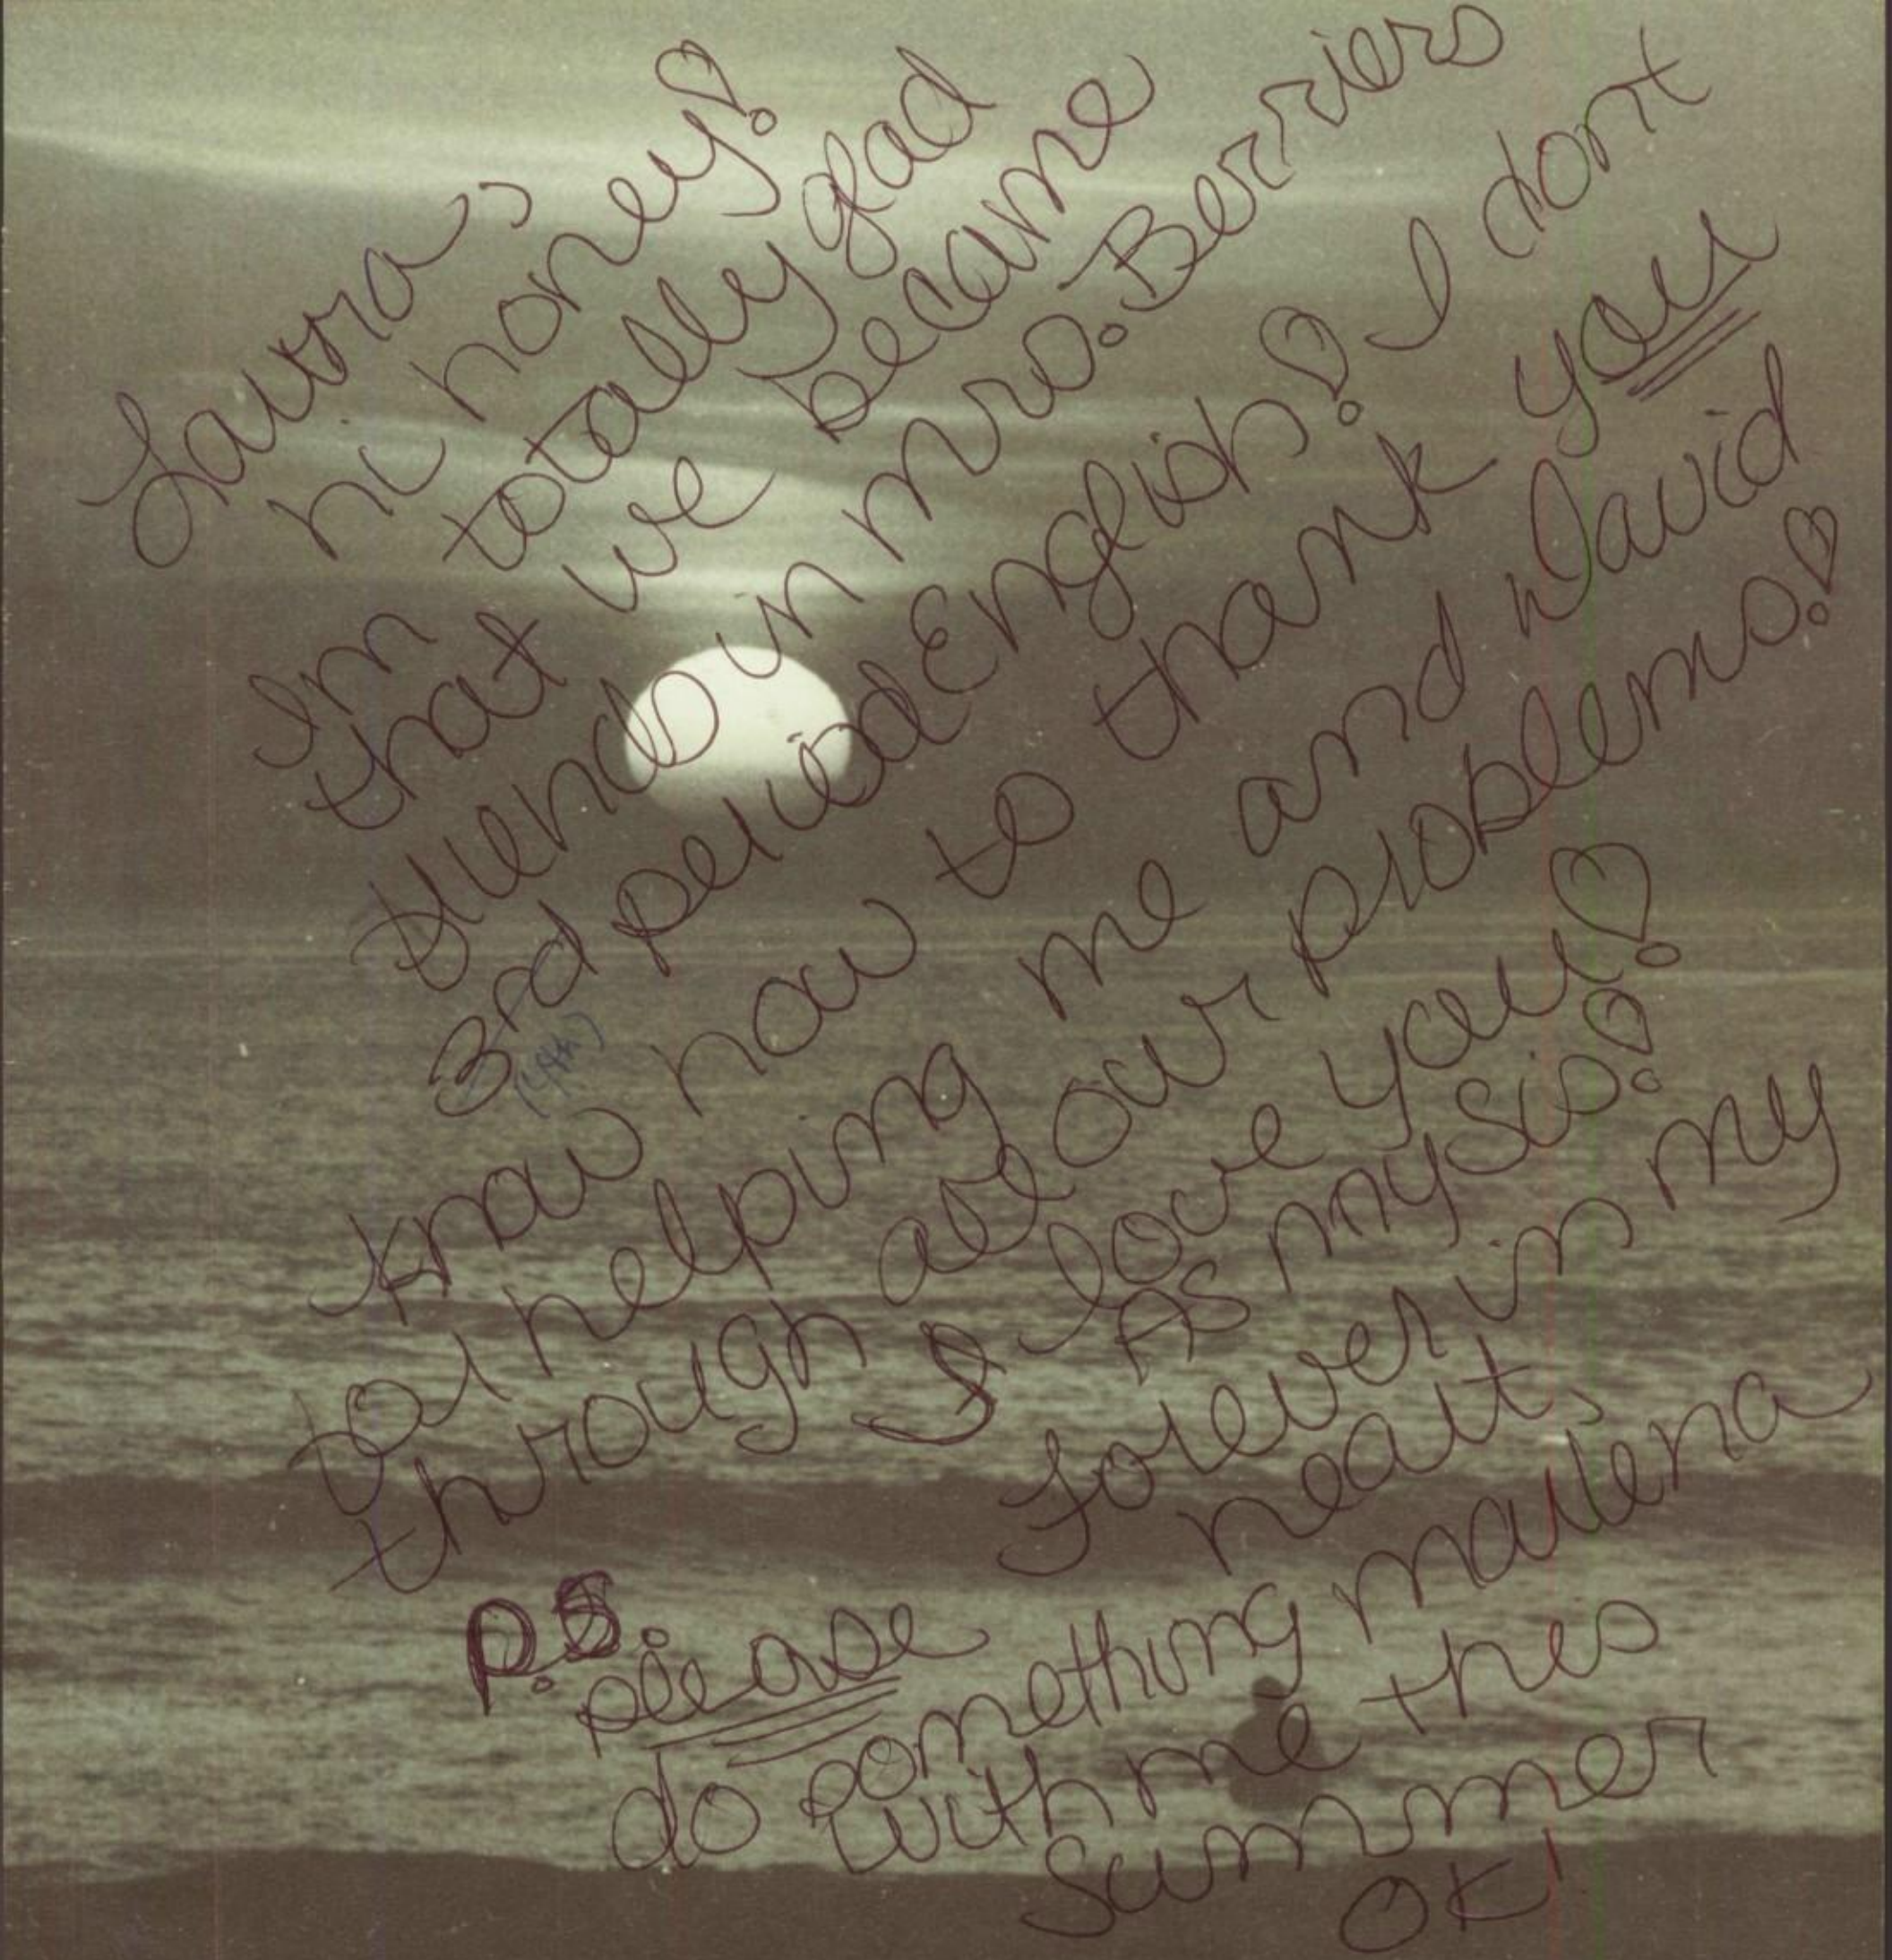
California Dreams vary among the minds of all of us. We all have them even though some dream about their wealth or about their ultimate happiness, or for some of us ultimate happiness is our California atmosphere.

It's all around us; the sunny days at the beach, killer cars, guys and girls, money, and alot of fun times. We are the lucky ones; Californias dreamin' is only what the true natives can experience.

As the days get warmer we can see the students in school gazing out the window thinking about-who knows what!? Then there are those of us who find some excuse to do their classwork outside to get some of that California sun; dreaming about the days to get to the beach.

Alot of California dreamin' is done at the beach, if it's early in the morning watching the fog role out and seeing the sun role in, or in the middle of the day when California's at it's peak of fun and sun; or if it's at dusk sharing the sunset with someone special, it is something that we all dream about.

Only a few of the lucky will ever reach their California dream but everyone else will have fun trying . . . ■



A Lasting Friendship

Some people are fortunate enough to meet someone special in their lives who, even though they each may follow their separate ways, continue to share a lasting friendship . . . The special times spent together, the people and places shared, are memories both will always have.

They are the people remembered always, who live in the heart no matter what . . . always just a thought or a phone call away, even if the years have come between. This is for you, my special friend, given with a special kind of love. Thank you for all the times in my life you were such a vital part of, and for being the unique essence of our lasting friendship. ■

- Cammie Charles

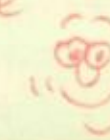
Laura,
Well, since your my very best friend, I'm honored, of course, to have this entire page to myself, though Lord knows how I'm going to fill it up! I guess I'll start by saying what a wonderful, sweet, trustworthy, dependable, loyal, dear, terrific friend you have been, are, and will be. We have more fun together, than a demon at an Ozzy concert! I'm soo glad I met you! How else would I buy lunch at school (? And who else would sit with you when Dennis (or is it Tom this week? or Joe? Harry?) is home watching lives? Well, I must say, all in all, this has been one pretty Rowdy year! (Lets hope te summer is even Rowdier!) well the "A lasting Friendship" deal, (facing page) pretty well somms up our friendship, except that I think were a little wilder with our ratted hair and yellow eye shadow! (and stupid jokes, and blue fingernail polish, not to mention our (four) Ho Jo posters ((orange hair???)))! Did you get all that so far? Lets hear it for two Pretty Rowdy Individuals During Eighty-six! (Hip, Hip, Hooray!). well I can't say "C-ya" or "have a good summer" or anything since I'll be spending it with you anyway right? Hey! Look! NO WAY! It can't be! Can it? NO! IT IS!!! I TOOK UP THE WHOLE PAGE!!! Don't forget, Laura dear! If all else fails READ THE DIRECTIONS!



Love and Best
Friendship Always!
